44 GOVERNORS IN CONFERENCE WITH ROOSEVELT

Ideas Destined to Mark Material Progress in Country's Future Are Advanced.

RESOURCES OF NATION MUST BE CONSERVED

That Was the Keynote of the Addresses of Roosevelt and Governors—Permanent Organization Between States and Nation Is Suggested.

Washington, May 13.—Two ideas destined to mark material progress in America's future resulted from the first of the three days' conference at the white house, at which President Roosevelt, the governors of forty-four states, cabinet officers, supreme court judges, senators, representatives and experts are participating, in efforts to reach conclusions on the best methods of conserving the natural resources of the United States.

The first is that a permanent organization between the states and the nation is necessary, and will likely result from the present conference, to accomplish the end sought. The second, suggested by Secretary Root, is that there is no limitation by the constitution to the agreements which may be made between the states, subject to the approval of congress. The two ideas fully developed it is predicted would result in the conservation of the energies and resources of the nation through uniform and unconflicting laws, both national and state.

The idea that the conference should be perpetuated developed in the form of resolutions offered for later consideration by Governor Glenn, of North Carolina, and Governor Folk, of Missouri. There were many others, but a preliminary move to save time sent them to a committee for consideration.

Forty-Four Governors Present.

Forty-four governors of sovereign states of the union sat on gilded chairs in the historic east room of the white house and chatted from 10 to 11 o'clock this morning. Five hundred other persons taxed the capacity of the room. They were cabinet officers, supreme court justices, senators, representatives and experts in all lines of industry. With a flourish of trumpets the president and vice president entered at 11 o'clock and the conference, the first of its kind in the history of the nation, began.

The setting for the scene wa magnificent and impressive. The assemblage faced the east wall, which was made resplendent by a platform done in green plush, backed by two large framed maps of the United States showing in colors its various resources, in the center of which was a device for the production of colored glass illustrations of the speeches, with a glaring reproduction of a forest fire in view. Seats of honor directly in front of these maps were occupied by members of the president's cabinet and justices of the supreme court. The president and vice president occupied high-backed green plush chairs on either side of the center.

The reception of the president was the first climax of the day. He entered the east room at 11 o'clock as the marine band rendered the presidential honors. The governors arose; they clapped their hands, they shouted. The demonstration became tumultuous.

Then followed a hush. The venerable Dr. Edward Everett Hale, chaplain of the senate, read from the scriptures the description of the fertility of the land promised the children of Israel and followed it with a supplication for guidance in the present undertaking.

Applause for Roosevelt.

President Roosevelt began his explanation of the reason for the conference. His fifty-minute speech was many times interrupted by applause, and when he finally reached his point of praise to the inland waterways commission and declared with characteristic vigor that should congress neglect to perpetuate the commission "I will do it myself" he "captured" the assemblage. The governors stood up and shouted, senators and congressmen added a laugh to their applause, and general assent was given the sentiment.

The president's speech ended the morning session. He, with the vice president, shook hands with each member of the assemblage. The governors and delegates were photographed with the president on the portico of the white house. The picture will show also William J. Bryan, Andrew Carnegie, J. J. Hill and Gustav Schwab, specially invited participants. The president met in the blue drawing room his dinner guests of the night before, including the governors and others.

It was at the afternoon session that the real work of the conference began, and this session, which opened at 2:45, lasted until 5:05 o'clock. The president finds it impossible to devote his entire time to the conference meetings. He will call to order each session, and then designate a governor to preside. This honor fell today on Governor Noel, of Mississippi, with the intimation from the president that tomorrow he should call on Governor Johnson, of Minnesota.

Roosevelt Calls on Bryan.

ACTION TODAY ON MONEY BILL

House Votes This Afternoon on Vreeland Measure.

BILL WILL PROBABLY PASS

But the Majority Will Be Small. Williams Will Attempt to Offer the Fowler Bill as Substitute, but Republicans May Balk Him.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—At 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon the house will vote on the Vreeland currency bill. The best information indicates that the bill will be passed by a small majority.

When the house meets tomorrow at 11:30 a. m., a resolution of order will be reported from the committee on rules in substance as follows:

"That the bill be taken up for consideration and passed; that amendments be limited in number to one; that general debate proceed until 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon, the time being evenly divided between the two sides of the house; that at 4:30 o'clock the bill be voted on."

This resolution will be adopted under suspension of the rules by a roll call vote, which is not expected to disclose the real strength of the republican insurgency, for, while several of the insurgents undoubtedly will vote against the rule in order to give consistency to their past attitude and subsequent action, others of them will vote for the rule out of party spirit, and a desire to bring the whole controversy to an issue.

It is to be expected that the democrats will vote solidly in the negative.

Williams Calls It a Trap.

The purpose of the regular republican leaders in allowing one amendment to be offered to the bill is to give the democrats an opportunity to move the substitution of the Williams currency bill for the Vreeland bill. But Mr. Williams, the minority leader, declared today in an interview that he does not propose "to walk into any such trap." He said that if the order from the rules committee allows only one amendment to be offered, and the choice of that amendment is given to the democrats, he will not offer the Williams bill, but the Fowler bill.

"The Fowler bill," he said, "has been reported to the house by a majority vote of the banking and currency committee and is therefore properly before the house for action. The bill which bears my name has not the same parliamentary standing before the house, for the reason that it was reported from the minority of that committee. I do not propose to be placed thus trickily in the position of gratuitiously affronting the republican friends of the Fowler bill by offering a minority bill as an amendment, which would be voted down anyway.

"If we are permitted to offer any amendment it will be the Fowler bill, not the Williams bill."

Republicans to Balk Williams.

The backers of the Vreeland bill, however, are of no mind to let Mr. Williams do this. Hard feeling has been already caused by the ignoring of the reported Fowler bill and the virtual discharging of the banking and currency committee from any further consideration of currency measures. In view of all these circumstances it may be that the order to be brought in tomorrow by the rules committee will designate definitely the Williams bill as the one amendment which will be entertained.

SUMMARY OF THE SENATE.

Brownsville Affair Postponed and Stewart Case Goes to Committee.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—The further consideration of the Brownsville affair was today postponed by the senate until December 16, next. This decision was reached after an extended exchange of views among senators. Mr. Foraker, after urging the appointment of an early day for voting on his bill, moved that it be taken up next December. After a motion by Senator Culberson, of Texas, to vote on the bill next Saturday was laid on the table, Mr. Foraker's motion was adopted by a vote of 62 to 6. Mr. Foraker gave out a statement saying that while he could not have passed the bill now, he thinks he has insured its passage by the postponement.

Senator Rayner's resolution directing the president to appoint a court of inquiry to investigate the case of Colonel William F. Stewart, of the army, now stationed at Fort Grant, Ariz., was referred to the committee on military affiars, with an understanding that Senator Rayner would appear before that committee tomorrow to make a further statement on the Stewart case.

The senate passed the house bill restoring the motto, "In God We Trust," on the coins of the United States.

The proposed repeal of the commodity clause of the rate bill was considered at some length. The senate at 5:55 p. m. adjourned.

SUMMARY OF THE HOUSE.

One-Half of the Session Was Spent in Roll Calls.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—One-half of the five-hour session of the house today was spent in roll calls on the various propositions presented. When the day's work had been concluded the agricultural and postoffice appropriation bills had been sent to conference, and the following bills passed:

Permitting owners of patents in cases where the government has appropriated inventions, to apply to the court of claims for relief; authorizing the entry of tea sweepings when intended to be used in the manufacture of caffeine; and an omnibus bridge bill.

At 4:32 p. m., the house took recess until 11:30 a. m. tomorrow.

TOWNS SWEPT OFF THE EARTH BY A "TWISTER"

Gilliam, Oil City and Bellinger in Louisiana Are Wrecked by Tornado.

HALF OF INHABITANTS EITHER DEAD OR DYING

Wires Are Down and the Details Are Meager—Relief Trains From Shreveport—The Tornado Passed From Louisiana Into Texas.

Shreveport, La., May 13.—The town of Gilliam, 30 miles north of Shreveport, is reported wiped out by a tornado, and a number of people killed. A relief train is en route.

Later advices say that all houses at Gilliam, except two, have been destroyed.

Gilliam is a town of about 200 inhabitants.

Oil City is also said to have been struck by the tornado.

Bollinger Is Struck.

A report received here tonight states that three persons were killed and ten others were injured during a tornado which badly damaged the town of Bolinger, La., late today. The dead:

MRS. MARSHALL DAVIS.
TWO NEGROES.

The injured:

Mother of Mrs. Davis, probably fatally.

Charles Idom and family of six persons.

Wires Interrupted.

Telegraphic communication is interrupted, but reports say that the storm started north of Shreveport, swept along to Little Rock, Texarkana, and is centered tonight in Texas.

Little Rock, Ar., May 13.—The Postal Telegraph Company here has received a message saying that about half of the inhabitants of Gilliam, La., either have been killed or injured, and urging that relief be sent at once.

Tornado Strikes Texas.

Palestine, Tex., May 13.—Late today during a torrential rain that has done thousands of dollars' of damage in this vicinity, a tornado formed about eight miles north of this city. The tornado passed northeast of the city proper, doubtless causing much damage.

All wires are odwn, and heavy rain continues, flooding residences and stores.

The International and Great Northern has suspended train service for tonight, as dangerous washouts are reported between Palestine, Lonogview and Mineola.

The dam at the waterworke plant gave way tonight before the heavy pressure of the flood, and the power house was swept away, leaving the city without water for fire protection.

HOW TOBACCO TRUST FIGHTS.

Startling Evidence Is Given by a Mississippi Dealer.

Newark, N. J., May 13.—When the hearing was resumed today before Vice Chancellor Howell in the suit brought by the American Tobacco Company to enforce a contract entered into betwee nthat corporation and the R. C. Richardson, Jr., Tobacco Company, Perry C. King, of Jackson, Miss., a tobacco seller, was called to the stand.

King testified that a representative of the American company called on him and offered to give him gratis with every 25 pounds invoice of one brand of its goods a similar invoice for himself and another fr his customers—that is to say, he would receive 75 pounds of this particular tobacco for every 25 pounds he paid for. He testified that the representaive told him trey were going to force the Richardson people's leading brand out of Mississippi. The withness said he did considerable business with the American company after that.

RESULT OF PROHIBITION.

Mississippi Business to Be Handled by Alabama Collector.

Birmingham, Ala., May 13.—Collector of Internal Revenue J. O. Thompson, of Alabama, has been informed by Commissioner of Internal Revenue Capers that effective June 1 the collections of revenue in Mississippi will be cared for through the Birmingham office.

This is one result of prohibition. The collections in Alabama having fallen off so much that the additional work in Mississippi, which will be detached from Louisiana, can be well cared for. Collector Thompson announces that at first he will make no changes in force either in Alabama or Mississippi, believing the present force sufficient to handle the business.

Pollard Elected Secretary.

Montgomery, Ala., May 13.—The grand lodge of Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Alabama, in annual session here, elected H. C. Pollard, of Huntsville, grand secretary to succeed Hal C. Weaver, of Huntsville, recently deceased. There were a number of candidates for the place.

EX-PRESIDENT AND MRS. GROVER CLEVELAND

Copyright by Underwood & Underwood, New York.

This is the latest picture of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland. It shows them on the piazza of their home at Princeton, N. J., where they have resided since leaving the White House. The picture was taken some time before the Clevelands went to Lakewood, where Mr. Cleveland was stricken with stomach trouble. Mr. Cleveland is still at Lakewood with Mrs. Cleveland, but the latest reports state that he is improving and will soon be able to return to Princeton.

28 MEN KILLED AND 30 WOUNDED

BREAK MADE FOR LIBERTY

Prisoners Attempted to Climb the Walls and Were Shot to Death by the Guards—Not One Succeeded in Getting Away.

Yekaterinoslav, May 13.—The attempt made yesterday by prisoners to break out of the government jail here after making a breach in the wall of the guard room with a bomb, was a complete failure, but it brought about a horrible scene of slaughter in and around the jail building.

Twenty-eight of the prisoners were shot to death by the guards and another of them has since died of his wounds. Thirty others were wounded, and it is expected that several of these will die.

As soon as the bomb was thrown one of the detachment of prisoners charged the guards in the yard and attempted to climb the wall. Twelve of these men were killed instantly, while others were wounded. At the same time a second body of prisoners rushed to the kitchen and seizing knives and other weapons, attempted to cut their way to liberfy. They were surrounded and killed to a man by the soldiers who had been hastily summoned by the prison authorities.

The explosion threw the whole prison into a panic. The inmates who took no part in the plot gathered in the windows overlooking the court yard. They were ordered to draw back but refused, whereupon the guards fired volleys into the open windows.

Two prisoners were shot down while attempting to escape over the roof of the building. So far as is known not one succeeded in getting away. The chief warden of the prison is among the wounded.

THE SOUTHERN DENTISTS.

President's Recommendations Were Indorsed by the Committee.

Birmingham, Ala., May 13.—The second day's session of the southern branch of the National Dental Association, was given over to the reading and discussion of technical papers. Recommendations made by the president, A. R. Melendy, of Knoxville, looking to the further betterment of the profession, were indorsed by the committee to whom the report was referred.

Dr. Lorenzo Luckie, of Birmingham, made an address on aural surgery and expressed the opinion that all dentists should be well acquainted with the subject to avoid severe arraignment in case of hard jobs.

WIDOW AIDED BY ACCOMPLICE

In Luring Victims to the Murder Farm.

MYSTERY SHROUDS DEATHS

Believed Widow Killed 10 Persons, But There Is Doubt as to Murderer of the Four Persons Found in the Ruins of the House.

La Porte, Ind., May 13.—Denials by La Porte officials that the Rev. Dr. E. A. Schell had revealed to them the substance of his conversations with Lamphere and the discovery of evidence that Mrs. Bella Gunness was aided by an accomplice in luring her victims to the farm were the chief developments in the case today.

The evidence regarding the aid of Mrs. Gunness came in a letter from a resident of Cleveland addressed to the local chief of police, Clinton Cochrane. It told of the writer's having met a stranger in that city last August, who gave him a protograph of "a rich widow who resided in La Porte," and tried to persuade him to come here to see the woman. The photograph is a fairly good likeness of Mrs. Gunness and was evidently taken some time ago.

Little Headway in Solving Mystery.

Little apparent headway was made today towards solving the mystery of the fourteen deaths thus far discovered on the farm of Mrs. Belle Gunness. While little doubt remains that Mrs. Gunness, either alone or aided, killed the ten persons whose cadavers have been unearthed in the barnyard, there is still no definite evidence as to who, if anybody, slew the four persons found in the ruins of the burned farm house. It is not even definitely established that the burned body is that of Mrs. Gunness.

A further attempt was made today to identify the rings found on the burned corpses taken from the ruins of the Gunness home. Joseph O. Maxson, who was working on the place and was the first person to discover the fire, was shown the jewelry, but except for the ring from the hand of Lucy Sorensen, the younger of Mrs. Gunness' two daughtes, he was unable to say that he had ever seen the various rings. This ring is a plated affair with three small sets, a "pearl," flanked with red "stones." Investigations show that it was purchased in a La Porte store by Mrs. Gunness three days before the fire of April 28.

Maxson said that he had seen Mrs. Gunness wear a wide ring or two of the general description of the band ring found on the charred woman's body yesterday. He was unable to identify the diamond rings.

Threatening Letter.

A threatening letter came to Prosecuting Atorney Ralph N. Smith today. It is a brief typewritten, unsigned communication, postmarked Brooklyn, and reading: "If you don't stop search for Mrs. Gunness, you'll be a dead man in two weeks. This applies to the sheriff, the chief of police and other officials."

In another unsigned letter from

Rayner Denies That He Tried to Coerce the President.

MORE ABOUT STEWART CASE

Rayner Declares That Roosevelt Is Punishing the Officer and That the President Is Doing It in Defiance of the Law.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—Senator Rayner today, in the senate, called up his joint resolution directing the president to appoint a court of inquiry in the case of Colonel William F. Stewart.

Senator Warren, chairman of the committee on military affairs, said he would submit the resolution promptly to his committee, but could not promise just how soon a report would be made.

"The resolution," said Mr. Warren, "is not only a reproof to the president, but it is an attack on the discipline of the army, and, in a way, of the navy also. This case has been passed upon by many general officers of the army, from the chief of staff down. Presidents may come and presidents may go, and undoubtedly we will have some one else in the chair after the 4th of March, but there must be discipline in the army."

He objected to establishing a precedent by which army orders to officers may be held up by appealing to a senator.

This statement accompanied a motion by Mr. Warren to refer the resolution to the military committee, a motion which followed a suggestion by Senator Aldrich that unanimous consent be given to consider the resoljtion at this time. The discussion was on the motion to refer.

Bacon on Right of Trial.

"The right of a man to a trial before punishment, and the attitude of the president that he holds a constitutional office, as commander-in-chief of the army, in which he is not responsible to law," declared Mr. Bacon, "are the questions of importance in this case. So far as the officer is concerned," he added, "I am not favorably impressed with him. He has not been a desirable officer at the various posts he had been sent to."

Mr. Rayner asked Mr. Warren whether, if the resolution should be referred to the committee on military affairs, he would not be permitted to appear before the committee and submit some further authorities.

Mr. Rayner said he had modified his resolution to express the opinion of the senate that Colonel Stewart was entitled to a court of inquiry, and "requested" the president to grant the court of inquiry.

Senator Warren asked Mr. Rayner "whether he had approached the executive with a threat that if this man was not removed from Fort Grant, this resolution would be presented in the senate?"

Mr. Rayner vehemently denied that he had "threatened" the president, only stating to the executive that unless the

TALK OF BOLT BY BRYAN MEN IN MINNESOTA

Friends of the Nebraskan Say That They Will Fight to the Last.

BRYAN ADVISES FRIENDS AGAINST RADICAL ACTION

But There Is Bitter Feeling and Bolt May Result—The Johnson Men Have Overwhelming Majority of the Delegates.

St. Paul, Minn., May 13.—It has become doubtful whether or not the followers of William J. Bryan will bolt the democratic state convention tomorrow. Two days ago it was tentatively agreed among them that such action should be taken if their contesting delegates were not seated in the convention. Today, however, the sentiment against such a step has largely increased.

Threat to Bolt.

A conference of the Bryan leaders was held today at the Merchants' hotel, and this evening National Committeeman T. T. Hudson, who presided in the meeting, gave the following statement:

"The course of the Bryan men will depend upon the action of the convention. If the action of the convention does not seem to be right, we will call the Bryan men to withdraw for a convention, at which further steps can be determined."

The altered state of feeling is due partly to a report that Bryan has advised National Committeeman Hudson that he does not deem highly radical action as favorable to his interests, and also to the pronounced opinion of many Bryan people that the sending of a contesting delegation to Denver will "be bad politics," that will destroy all chance of Bryan carrying Minnesota this fall if he is nominated at Denver.

Will Fight It Out.

Frank Larrabee, of Minnesota, who is an ardent supporter of Mr. Bryan, declared today while the conference in the Merchants' hotel was in progress that it was too late for Mr. Bryan to call off his followers, declaring that they would fight it out no matter what word might come from their chief.

There is a strong feeling among the Bryan people, and it is shared, to some slght extent, by a few Johnson men, that it may be possible to indorse Bryan as a "second choice," there is, however, an infinitely small chance of this being done. The Johnson men have such an overwhelming majority of the delegates in tomorrow's convention that there is no chance of the Bryan people getting anything beyond what the Johnson following is pleased to leave them, and the Johnson following is disposed to give them nothing.

Double Wedding Kept Secret.

Nashville, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—The news has just been made public of the marriages of Mr. J. D. Holland to Miss Mattie Sutton and Mr. Linton C. Turner to Miss Nid Powell. This double marriage was solemnized on Sunday night, April 26th, and was kept a profound secret until Sunday night of this week. Mr. Holland is assistant agent here for the Georgia and Florida Railway and his bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. T. Sutton. Mr. Turner is clerk of the superior court-elect, and his bride is the sister of Cashier John W. E. Powell, of the First National Bank of Nashville.

NELMS MEETING IN FIRST WARD

Many Tributes Are Paid to Sheriff of Fulton County.

Five hundred citizens of the first and other wards gathered in an empty building at 175 Peters street last night to discuss the issues involved in the race for sheriff of Fulton county, the meeting being arranged by the friends of Sheriff Nelms.

John W. Moore acted as chairman, and stated his high opinion of Dr. Nelms, saying that during his ten years' practice as a lawyer he was greatly impressed with the efficient and competent men under Dr. Nelms.

John J. Fain, from the second ward, then spoke briefly, and said: "You will find us at our place the 4th of June, ready to do anything we can for you." Chairman Moore then introduced I. Balagur as a tailor and a good citizen of the first ward, and the remarks made by him were witty and terse.

Hardy Teet was the next speaker. He dwelt on the importance of the office of sheriff. He said that it was the highest gift the people of Fulton could give a man, and that Sheriff Nelms' eleven years' service was not to be surpassed; that he was not only a courteous gentleman, but was also a good and charitable man, and had helped many people.

Sheriff Nelms Talks.

Josh Tye next made a few remarks, and Sheriff Nelms, amid the cheers of the people, arose and spoke about an hour in his free, simple and easy manner. He spoke of his long service as sheriff, and said that he had done for the people what no other sheriff had ever done. That during the past eleven years he had had under his safe keeping about thirty thousand prisoners from all over Georgia, and that he had kept them safe until justice was meted out; that he didn't deputize other men to hang the criminal; he did that himself, because it was his duty. The jail is given a cleaning every day inside, and outside once a week to insure perfect sanitary conditions. Many thousands of dollars of the county's money had been intrusted to him, and that every dollar had been accounted for. The only charge that his opponents could get against him was that he had been in the office too long. They couldn't cite a single incident where he had failed to do his duty officially and fearlessly.

The whole meeting was marked by the good humor that pervaded and the informality with which it was conducted. After the speech of Seriff Nelms he was given a warm handshake by the many friends and assured of their support.

10,000 PERSONS WERE DROWNED

PERISHED AS THEY SLEPT

Great Many of the Victims Were Asleep in Small River Craft When They Were Whelmed by the Wall of Water.

Seattle, Wash., May 13.—News of one of the greatest disasters that China has ever known, a sudden tidal bore in the Yang-tse-KiKang, which involved the loss of nearly ten thousand lives at Hangow, was brought by the steamer Titan, which arrived last night.

A bore 26 feet in height, flooded, without warning, down the river over which hung thousands of junk, sampans and small boats, and wrecking some large river steamers.

Some 3,000 Chinese were sleeping in sampans and small craft and mat sheds and huts by the river side at Hangow, and they were enveloped by the great wave which swept broken junks, spintered sampans and a heterogeneous mass of debris with swarms of drowned Chinese mixed with the wreck. The scenes for many days after the disaster were horrible, the river side being strewn with dead and debris of wrecked craft for many miles.

LIQUOR BARRED TO ENGINEERS

Chief Stone Wants Brotherhood to Adopt Prohibition Policy.

Columbus, Ohio, May 13.—About 400 delegates were in the city for the convention of Grand International Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, when Grand Chief Stone dropped the big gavel that called the initial meeting to order at Memorial hall.

The annual report of Grand Chief Stone, with his recommendations, was read at the morning session. The brotherhood has always stood for temperance, and the grand chief makes recommendations along this line in his report, asking for more drastic laws. The rules at present provide that any member discharged from a position for drinking shall also be expelled from the order. It is recommended that this law be amended so that any member who drinks, either on or off duty, shall be liable to expulsion.

THEATERS

"The Three of Us."

A large and appreciative audience greeted "The Three of Us," as presented by the Giffen company at the Grand yesterday afternoon when the first matinee of this popular play was presented. The matinee girls were out in full force. Those who saw the initial production on Monday evening and again at the matinee marveled at the improvement in the smoothness with which the play was presented.

At the Orpheum.

The very best vaudeville of the season to top off the Orpheum's year is what patrons of the vaudeville theater have pronounced the closing bill. And there has never been quite as good vaudevile at the Orpheum as Gus Edwards' School Boys and Girls, the musical comedy offered as the last number. Nine boys and girls are there, singing Gus Edwards' own inimitable songs, "School Days" and the rest. Herman Timberg, the youthful Hebrew comedian, promises to be a second David Warfield in time, and gives an excellent specialty.

At the Bijou.

There is a chorus in "Around the Clock" that might not take all the blue ribbons at a beauty show, but could certainly carry off first honors in any competition for action. The girls have been drilled and trained by experienced stage managers, and their dances and marches and the big drum number make the show stand out as one of the best of the season.

Brooklyn to Prosecutor Smith, the writer declares that it will be useless to look for "Belle and I" in Brooklyn, as "he" had to spend $3.48 in car fare to go from his residence to the post-office.

There was the usual grist of letters today relating to possible victims of Mrs. Gunness. The most plausible came from a merchant of Osage City, Kan., but the description of the missing man, Emil Tell, is faulty.

Wesley Fogle, executor of the Gunness estate, today filed in court an inventory of the personal property discovered. The value thereof is given as $1,540.80.

Will Inspect Ice Cream.

Macon, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Alderman Harry Robert introduced a resolution in council last night which provides for regular inspection of ice cream sold in blocks on the streets by peddlers. The purpose of the members of council was to see that no impure products go out for consumption. The matter will take regular course and will be passed upon.

ALICE LEAL POLLOCK,
With the Giffen Company, as Antoinette de Mauban in "The Prisoner of Zenda."

ALICE LEAL POLLOCK COMES TO JOIN GIFFEN COMPANY

When the curtain rolls up on "The Prisoner of Zenda," to be offered by the Giffen company at the Grand next week, there will be a new face to be noted upon the stage and an actress of charming personality and splendid note will be presented to the Atlanta theatergoers.

George Foster Platt, who is personally directing the presentation of "The Three of Us," on the board this week, and will produce "The Prisoner of Zenda" next week, announces Miss Alice Leal Pollock as the latest acquisition to the company.

She will neither supplant nor supersede any one now in the organization, but the strength of this popular organization will be enhanced by her presence.

She is a graduate from the school of Belasco, as those players are termed who have played under that wizard of the stage, David Belasco, and comes direct from New York, where she has made a decided hit in the Belasco productions.

She is a very handsome actress, a modish dresser with a soft, sweet voice and a temperament which at once appealed to Mr. Belasco and resulted in her receiving much careful training at his hands.

She is cast for the romantic role of Antoinette de Mauban in the "Prisoner of Zenda," an unusually strong part and for which it is declared she is admirably fitted by face, figure and artistic temperament. She has played the part with signal success elsewhere and is thoroughly at home in the role.

It is also announced that Jack Prescott, who created the role of Hop Wing in "The Three of Us," as produced in New York, a character actor with a long stock experience, is to join the Giffen company next week, too. He is a prime favorite in New Orleans, St. Louis and other large cities. He is a splendid stage manager and will act as assistant to Mr. Platt, who is stage manager for the Giffen company.

Mr. Bonney, whose work as Kleschna, the Austrian criminal, won for him a high place in the affections of the Atlanta theater goers when "Leah Kleschna" was presented, will return to the company next week, when he is cast for the bluff old Bismarckian soldier, Colonel Sapt, in the "Prisoner of Zenda." These additions will greatly strengthen the Giffen company.

JOINT DEBATE WAS HELD.

Interesting Gubernatorial Debate Held at Toccoa.

Toccoa, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—A joint debate over the gubernatorial situation was held in Toccoa today. Yesterday it was announced that Hon. J. D. Kilpatrick, of Atlanta, would speak at the courthouse at the noon recess of court in behalf of the candidacy of Hon. Hoke Smith.

The supporters of Joe Brown at once asked for a division of time, but were unable to secure a speaker from a distance on so short notice. J. E. L. Bowden, a real estate agent of this city, formerly of Waycross, agreed to represent Joe Brown in the division of time. The audience consisted of about three hundred.

Mr. Kilpatrick opened in a forty-minute speech. Mr. Bowden followed, stating in the beginning that he was not a public speaker. During his witty, froceful address he heaped ciriticisms upon Governor Smith and his administration.

Mr. Kilpatrick made a strong argument in favor of Mr. Smith and his administration, and his rejoinder was generously applauded. He did not reply to Mr. Bowden's criticisms on Governor Smith's position as to immigration, his failure to have a lobbying bill passed and the fact that the governor was making a political speech on the day observed as Memorial day, although Mr. Kilpatrick was asked to do so by Mr. Bowden.

Fire at Spread, Ga.

Louisville, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—The Spread Milling company's ginning and flour mill, were burned last night, at Spread, Jefferson county, with a loss of about $25,000. Insurance, $6,500. The fire commenced in the Southern railroad office and spread to the ginnery.

ACTORS' FUND OF AMERICA.

In Twenty-Seven Years It Has Given Over a Million to the Needy.

New York, May 13.—The twenty-seventh annual meeting of the Actors' Fund of America was held yesterday. Less than fifty of the 1,800 members were present. Daniel Frohman, the president, said that in the twenty-seven years of the fund's existence, it had dispersed more than $1,000,000 to the needy, but that the last year had shown a deficit of $27,000. A resolution was adopted asking all managers in America to insert a clause in contracts to deduct from the fourth week the annual $2 dues from the funds. The following officers were elected:

Beware of Imitations

Cheap Substitutes and "Just As Good As."

Unscrupulous dealers, mindful only of profit and caring nothing for the health of their patrons, are offering for sale low-grade, impure whiskey, which they tell you is as "good as Duffy's."

It is a cheap concoction and fraud, intended to deceive the people. Of course, when a remedy has been before the public so long, has been prescribed and used by the best doctors and in all the prominent hospitals, and has carried the blessing of health into so many thousands of homes as Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has, imitations are bound to arise. But they can imitate the bottle and label only—no one can imitate the contents.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture, its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach.

Any firm that will sell imitation or substitution goods will sell impure goods. The firm that is dishonest in one thing would not hesitate to be dishonest in another. Whenever you see imitation and substitution goods offered for sale by a firm, beware of anything and everything put up by that firm. You endanger your own life and the lives of your family and friends by dealing with them.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS!

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is sold in sealed bottles only—never in bulk. A fac-simile of the genuine bottle is printed here so that you may easily recognize it. It is our own patented bottle—round, amber colored and with the same "Duffy Malt Whiskey Company" blown in the glass. The trade-mark—the Old Chemist's Head—is on the label, and over the cork there is an engraved paper seal. Be certain this seal is not broken.

It is the only whiskey recognized by doctors everywhere as a family medicine.

Who Could Threaten Roosevelt.

"As if anybody could threaten the president," exclaimed Mr. Rayner, amid laughter.

Mr. Warren said his question was suggested by newspaper reports only.

Mr. Rayner suggesting that Colonel Stewart had been sent to a fort up in the clouds 2,000 or 3,000 feet above the sea level, Mr. Warren interrupted that many senators lived in altitudes higher than Fort Gaines.

Five times, said Mr. Rayner, the president repeated in his letters that his treatment of Colonel Stewart was a punishment, which, he added, "under the laws of this country he has no right to inflict, yet he is proceeding by punishment to drive him into retirement."

Mr. Taliaferro had a letter head, showing that Colonel Stewart had been ordered away from Fort St. Francis, St. Augustine, merely because of a protest by the state of Florida, which has control of Fort St. Francis, and he had received a letter from the president, in which the latter said the punishment inflicted upon Colonel Stewart was incident to the discipline of the army, and concluding by saying that, as commander-in-chief, he neither could nor would surrender the right to exercise such judgment.

He expressed the opinion that a courtmartial might be necessary to provide punishment for Colonel Stewart.

The resolution was then referred to the committee on military affairs. Mr. Warren saying Mr. Rayner would be welcome to appear before the committee.

Westcott Held His Whisky.

Macon, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Chief of Police Sam Wescott refused to turn over the alleged liquors of I. Bashinski to Deputy Sheriff Dan McCoy this morning on a bail trover proceeding taken by Attorneys Harris and Wimberly. The police took the property when they raided Bashinski's restaurant on Fourth street, and it was locked up in a cell at police station. The property will be held until there are proceedings by which the release can be enforced.

TWENTY-TWO DELEGATES NAMED BY REPUBLICANS

Two Instructed for Foraker, But Remainder, Though Uninstructed, Seem in Line With Administration Forces.

DISTRICT DELEGATES TO CHICAGO CONVENTION

First—R. R. Wright, of Savannah, and J. N. Elder, of Hagan. Alternates—H. D. Puchesley, of Swainsboro, and E. F. Allen, of Summertown. Instructed for Foraker.

Second—H. F. Brimbery, of Dougherty, and B. J. Davis, of Terrell. Alternates—G. O. Smith, of Turner, and W. A. J. Mosely, of Thomas. Uninstructed.

Third—F. B. Mitchell and F. G. Boatwright. Alternates—J. T. Nobles and G. F. Thomas. Uninstructed.

Fourth—E. J. Hinton, of Meriwether, and Alfred Able, of Marion county. The names of the alternates have not been given to the public prints so far. Uninstructed.

Fifth—Edwin F. Blodgett, of Atlanta, and Ananias Brown, of Atlanta. Alternates—W. F. Penn and W. R. Watson. Uninstructed.

Sixth—Dr. W. O. Emory and Colonel Aleck Akerman. Alternates—Frank Disroon, of Macon, and I. W. Wood, of Forsyth. Uninstructed.

Seventh—J. P. Dyar, of Adairsville, and F. J. Wimberly, of Cobb county. Alternates—E. S. Anderson, of Ringgold, and H. T. C. Kittles, of Cave Spring. Uninstructed.

Eighth—M. B. Morton, of Athens, and J. E. Poche, of Washington. Alternates—H. R. Simmons, of Greensboro, and E. J. Bell, of Elberton. Uninstructed.

Ninth—J. B. Gaston, of Gainesville, and A. J. Spence, of Nelson. Alternates—J. Edgar Puett, of Cumming, and Joe B. Landers, of Gainesville. Uninstructed.

Tenth—J. M. Barnes, of Thomson, and Dr. D. W. S. Daniel, of Sparta. Alternates—C. T. Walker, of Augusta, and Shepard Pete, of Crawfordville. Uninstructed.

Eleventh—J. M. Wilkinson, of Valdosta, and Mc. C. Parker, of Pierce. Alternates—W. C. Lane, no address given, and L. L. Ellison, of Telfair. Uninstructed.

The republican state convention, which convenes in Macon today, meets primarily to select four delegates from the state at large to the republican national convention in Chicago and as many alternates.

Of the twenty-six members of the Georgia delegation to the national convention, twenty-two have already been selected by the district conventions, which were entirely independent of the state meeting. The state convention will have no power to instruct the district delegates or to settle any of the contests that have arisen. However, it is understood that as the result of negotiations which are under way the close of the state convention will find matters so adjusted as to guarantee the withdrawal of practically all the contests.

Of the twenty-two delegates elected from the eleven Georgia districts, two—from the first—were instructed for Foraker. All the rest go to Chicago uninstructed, but it is understood that practically all are in line with the administration forces and will be found voting for Taft. A peculiar feature of the district conventions was that nearly all of them indorsed Roosevelt and also passed resolutions indorsing Senator Foraker for his course in the Brownsville affair.

The Delegates at Large.

Whether the state convention will instruct the delegates at large is a question, though it is confidently believed that the Taft-Roosevelt men will have full control of the convention.

It matters not what may be the result of contests in Macon, it is practically an assured fact that Hon. Walter Johnson, chairman of the state executive committee; H. L. Johnson, the well known negro lawyer of Atlanta, and Judson Lyons, of Augusta, ex-register of the national treasury, will be three of the four delegates from the state at large to the Chicago convention. For the fourth place a number of names have been suggested, while for the four alternates it appears impossible to make a prediction as to the successful ones.

The District Conventions.

A summary of the actions of the eleven district conventions, taken from the press reports, shows the following results:

The second district indorsed the Roosevelt administration except as to the Brownsville affair, wherein Foraker's course was indorsed.

In the fifth district the delegation was not instructed, but it was generally understood that the members were Roosevelt indorsers and Taft supporters.

It is an uninstructed delegation to Chicago from the sixth district, according to the action of the convention in Jackson on May 2.

In the seventh district resolutions indorsing Roosevelt's administration as a whole were adopted, as were resolutions sustaining Senator Foraker because of his efforts in behalf of the negro troops at Brownsville.

The eighth district shows a split, the regulars and the Heards. The regulars indorsed the administration, indorsed W. H. Johnson for chairman of the state committee and for delegate at large to the national convention. The Heard wing indorsed the administration, too.

In the ninth district the delegates were sent uninstructed after a resolution indorsing the administration of Roosevelt and commending Walter H. Johnson for his work as chairman of the state central committee had been adopted.

The tenth district indorsed Roosevelt's administration, thanked Foraker for his fight for the Brownsville negro troops, recommended W. H. Johnson, W. L. Johnson and Judson Lyons for delegates at large and declined to instruct its representatives.

The eleventh indorsed the administration and then indorsed Foraker for his work for the negro soldiers.

Ready for the Convention.

Macon, Ga., May 13.—The state republican executive committee adjourned this afternoon, after making up a temporary roll of delegates for the state convention, which meets here tomorrow to elect four delegates at large to Chicago.

A number of contests is anticipated in the convention, but the committee did not pass upon any of these. It is understood tonight that the choice for three of the delegates at large is pretty well centered upon Walter H. Johnson, H. L. Johnson, and Judson W. Lyons. The two last named are colored.

TROUP MEMBER RESIGNS.

Hon. R. M. Young Says Sentiment Has Changed.

LaGrange, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Hon. R. M. Young's resignation as a member of the house of representatives was accepted today. Governor Smith has ordered an election to fill the vacancy and the election will probably be held on the 4th of June. The date of the regular election.

Mr. Young gives as one of his reasons that the sentiment of the county had changed since his election and he could not further represent the county. Hon. W. B. Whatley, chairman of the county board of education, is mentioned to fill the unexpired term.

Commencement at Danielsville.

Danielsville, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Commencement exercises of the Danielsville Model school opened here today. Much praise is being given C. B. Ayers, the principal, and his assistants, for the efficient work done this year.

A. H. COX PLEADS IN TROUP COUNTY FOR COUNTY UNIT

He Declares Under Committee Rule County Loses Half Strength.

LARGE CROWD GREETS WELL-KNOWN SPEAKER

Court Is Adjourned That He May Address Voters of Troup, Harris, Heard and Meriwether Counties—Spoke Two Hours.

By Ernest E. Dallis, Staff Correspondent.

LaGrange, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Hon. Albert H. Cox, of Atlanta, the only announced candidate for a delegate's place from the state at large, spoke here today. He was for years a citizen of this city, and representative from this county in the legislature for years of 1876 to 1880. He returned to his home county to make a plea for her rights in the coming state convention, to explain how the county power was being taken from the country counties by the primary rules of the state committee, and was received with open arms.

Judge A. W. Freeman, of the Coweta circuit of the superior court, adjourned the trial of an important murder case at noon in order that this gifted son of Troup might be heard, and for two hours Colonel Cox was given the closest attention by the 500 citizens of Troup, Harris, Meriwether and adjoining counties who had come to attend court and listen to his lucid explanation of the rule which throttles county representation and makes the state convention a "one-man convention."

Time and time again Colonel Cox was applauded, and when he had completed his address he was warmly congratulated by friends of his boyhood and young manhood who had flocked to the court house to hear this returned son make a plea for his home county's rights. It was an ovation of which any public man might be proud, and refuted the old theotry that a "prophet is not without honor save in his own country."

Colonel Cox was introduced to the public which knew him as a boy, loved him as a man and admired him as a patriot who had taken up the fight in the interest of the country counties of the state, by Judge W. W. Turner, a life-long prohibitionist, a Methodist minister and former state senator from this district.

In Masterly Manner.

Colonel Cox, in that masterly manner which won him friends when a mere youth and placed him in the legislature when but 26 years of age, explained the primary rules which gives to the successful nominee for governor the state convention, regardless of whether all of the counties go for him or not; showed how, by this manner, the power of the city counties was intensified, that of the country counties minimized; how the state paltform was to be controlled by one man and the voice of Georgia, in regard to national affairs, expressed through the organization of this one man.

With his characteristic humor he declared the first few lines of the primary regulating how the delegates to the convention should be selected, was "the prettiest way of saying the nominee for governor shall be the party boss" he had ever seen or heard.

He designated the administration of the incumbent as being one of autocracy as opposed to democracy; declared that Little Joe Brown had been illegally fired from office, and reviewed the entire political situation throughout the state.

His speech was received with enthusiasm, and as he had concluded Colonel Robert Render rushed up to him and said, "That is the best and most convincing speech I have ever heard."

When the court took recess for the address the spectators remained and others crowded in until the commodious auditorium and balconies were filled.

Many Noted Men Present.

Among those noted inside the bar railing were Judge R. A. S. Freeman, of West Point; Hon. H. A. Hall, of Coweta; former Representative B. H. Hill, of West Point; Attorney Frank McLaughlin, of Hamilton; B. F. McLaughlin, of Greenville, Meriwether county; former Representative J. B. Hammett, of Troup; Senator-elect F. M. Longley, of this district; Representatives W. H. Rev. B. A. Vaughan, Baptist minister; Henry Banks, Sr., Harvey Nimmons, John Banks, Jr., J. G. Truitt, Wilie Reeves, W. L. Cleveland, J. E. Dunson, W. W. Wisdom, Sheriff Oscar Florence, Rev. B. A. aVughan, Baptist minister; M. F. McLendon, E. T. Moon, Dr. A. J. Tuggle, J. B. Strong, F. P. Longley, S. H. Dunson, Ely Callaway, E. R. Bradfield, Sr., E. R. Bradfield, Jr., and others.

When quiet had been restored Judge Turner introduced the speaker of the day.

It was with tears in his eyes, brought about by the touching tribute to him, his parents and his home by Judge Turner, that Colonel Cox began his speech. He referred to the fact that he wore his grandfather's glasses; his mother and father were buried in the Hillview cemetery where also slept his eldest boy, and that he had returned to his home.

"I am yours," he began, "and I want you for mine, if I'm right.

"I have been absent from you for a long time, but have regretted it only once—and that was all the time.

"It has been said I fought for the defense of the south, and I fought under you at West Point, Colonel Fannin' (turning to his old commander in the audience, who responded, "Tthat you did") "and as it was then, so it is now. I am fighting for the weak. I have been asked to come home often before to take part in your contests, but I never would come in to take part in your differences, but now, thank God, I come to defend Troup county, my home county.

"There never was a time from the founding of the democratic party in this state, made perfect in the convention of 1877, which I in part, as a member of the house in 1876, had the pleasure of helping to call, down to 1907, that Troup county didn't have a certain per cent in the representation of the state government as expressed in party convention.

"I am, it is true, a city man, but I am forever a country man. The purity of our politics and conservatism is always to be found in the country rather than in the cities."

He then went into detailed explanation in regard to the change from county to majority rule in the state convention, and resorted to figures to prove it.

He began by taking this county with its representation of four votes in the convention as against six from Fulton county, the largest in the state. He said, formerly this county had two-thirds as much power in the convention as the largest county in the state.

He asked for the voting strength of the county and being told it was 2,000, said: "Fulton will cast probably 12,000 votes to Troup's 2,000. Instead of having two-thirds as much power as Fulton, by this new rule, which eliminates the county unit, Troup will swap her two-third under the old rule for one-sixth.

A Big Sacrifice.

Continuing, he said: "Troup county is asked to sacrifice exactly one-half her political power to a man, nothing especially to her, and that, not for a better rule, but for an infinitely worse one."

He continued by saying: "Thank God, Tom Watson stands with me on this question—incomparable Tom Watson, whose incomparable story of France will illumine literature and Georgia long after these little politicians of today are forgotten."

Colonel Cox then turned to the husbandry of the state and said:

"Having attempted to sheer the farmer of his proper political power the governor tries to hit the producer (who creates all things upon which others trade) another blow by a message advocating the tax on their fertilizers should be raised over double, all men knowing this would fall upon the producer in the price.

"The difference between two-thirds what Troup did have, and one-sixth, what he will have, is three-sixths, or just one-half.

"In other words, under this new system you have only one-half of your strength, and only that if 'you pick the winner,' and if you don't guess right, God help your souls, you not only won't have half your strength, but you will have a delegation sent to the convention picked from among the friends of the candidate who was nominated, who will tell a lie on you by voting for the things you voted against.

"If this is a government of population they are right. If the governor is right our soldiers of the lost cause are wrong, for they fought for this principle, and our people think more of principle than any personal prince. Thank God we are a free people, and these iron-gray heroes fought for this principle I am advocating in the sixties.

"This popular vote plan is Lincoln republicanism under a new cloak.

"How often have you heard that sweet mouthful, 'a government of the people, for the people, and by the people!' from Lincoln!

"The people who stand for this advocate this Lincoln republicanism.

"They may not know it! Father forgive them, they know not what they do.

"It is not so—but this is a government of the people and of the states for the people, and for the state, and by the people and by the state.

"Where would Rhode Island be if it were a government by population, in the senate? As it is, in that high body, Rhode Island has as many representatives as Pennsylvania. The states are represented in one house and the people in the other. This is no mob government."

He referred to the constitutional convention of 1877, calling over the big men in attendance. He said: "Lawton, a 'city man,' from Savannah, proposed that counties be represented by population, the same as here, and this was voted down so quickly that it was never heard of again."

The question of selecting delegates to the national convention at Denver to attend to the national platform and the nomination of candidate for president and vice president was taken up at length by Colonel Cox. He pointed out how the successful nominee for governor had the delegates from among his friends, and, naturally, could control the appointment of these delegates.

He said the method of selecting these delegates had been the same until this "little committee" and its chairman had taken it upon themselves to answer that it had been so that the people of the sovereign state of Georgia had no voice in the selection of delegates since the chairman had been twenty-five years old.

Read Delegate Rule.

He then read the rule governing the selection of the delegates to the state convention and pointed out how all the counties in the state might go for one candidate by a small majority in each and the largest go for another by an overwhelming majority, securing the nomination and the minority counties would have representatives in the convention, under this rule, selected from the men who opposed the wishes of the county as expressed by the county vote.

After studying it a second he said: "This is the prettiest way to say the nominee for governor shall be the 'party boss' I have ever seen. He declared the governor should have said: "Young partisans, you have gone too far, I decline to accept it. But he didn't decline." He then told of going to see Representative Hooper Alexander, vice chairman of the state executive committee, and asking him for a construction in regard to the rule at issue. He said that he gave him one interpretation of it and that he then wrote to Chairman Miller and asked him for an interpretation of it. Told about taking it to the Journal office where a letter was published but afterwards his card on the subject was accepted, set up but never printed in the Journal."

He said the reason he didn't take it to The Constitution was because Clark Howell had, at one time, told him to "go to the republicans where he belonged," but he then took it to The Constitution which published it. He then told of Chairman Miller telling him the state committee would meet in ten days when the matter would be taken up; how Seab Wright, whom he referred to as "that Navarre of prohibition over whom long may the white plume wave," had inserted the word "state," making it mean from the supporters of the "state policies" of the governor which, he declared, made it worse than ever; how he was invited to address and how he declined adding "I know a packed jury when I see it" and how, finally, it was passed up without further change. He then declared the state convention, at Macon, two years ago, had taken the prerogative of this year's convention in declaring for a preference for the democratic nominee for president and the governor had been made exponent for the party but so far had failed to "expone" on national affairs.

He said the governor was keeping this a profound secret. He said he went to see Hon. Joseph M. Brown in gard to the method prescribed for sebrown had written him a note in regard to the method proscribed for selecting delegates, in which he said: "I am perfectly willing to trust my nomination to the honor of any man sent to the state convention." He said the governor has declared if the county went against him to send from that county delegates who were favorable to him, and declared this would mean a unanimous convention of a divided state. Colonel Cox turned to the dismissal of Mr. Brown and incidentally called attention to the fact that Judge Hines, attorney to the railroad commission, had secured a decision (Coleman v. the State, 103 Ga.) in which it was held to be illegal to remove a man with a fixed term from office without a hearing, and followed it up by saying this is what the governor, "with his autocratic power, has done in the case of Joe Brown, 'little Joe Brown,' who is liable to turn out little joker in this great game."

He declared the governor had acted as juror, judge and executioner; had failed to try the case impartially; had surmised, as a judge, the contents of a letter, and as executioner, "in the haste of his arrogance had kicked Joe Brown out of office—and stumped his big toe nail off."

He declared that the enlarged railroad commission bill gave the commission five men instead of three, and that with this as precedent, if it was three to two against the wishes of the governor it is in his power to kick the third man out, put in a man friendly to the matter, and rule the commission.

Reviews Smith's Record.

He closed by reviewing Mr. Smith's record on the prohibition question and comparing it to Mr. Brown's. He said the governor was for prohibition in 1885, when prohibition was popular, "and voted against it and contributed money to defeat it in 1887, when it had become unpopular. 'Flip-flop.'"

He referred to the fact that while the cities, which were for him, were selling whisky he was a local optionist, but when the prohibition wave swept the prohibition law in he signed it "and became a prohibitionist. 'Flip-flop.'"

He said Mr. Brown had displayed remarkable self-control in not flying into the press when he was kicked out of office, and that he had bided his time with patience and "as David, with a sling in the shape of a pen and a card for a pebble, had struck the mighty Goliath and he is now dancing round over the state with his foot today, in one part of the state, and tomorrow in another, hurst so bad as to stump his home city by wards."

He then referred to the high indorsements paid Mr. Brown by E. P. Black, woh had worked under him; Colonel B. F. Abbott, who had been his lifelong friend, and G. B. Adair, who was his church treasurer, and concluded the comparison with a statement from Dr. John E. White, his pastor, in regard to Mr. Brown as a man.

He said Mr. Brown had been attacked for not speaking, and called attention to the fact that neither Thomas Jefferson, as president, nor the Immortal Lee ever made public addresses.

He touched upon the disfranchisement question only to say Mr. Brown had published he was going to vote for the disfranchisement amendment, and that he believed all men in Georgia joined hands on this issue.

Among Old Friends.

In concluding his remarks about his visit to LaGrange, Colonel Cox said:

"I am happy to greet so many old friends from so many counties, and knowing how you revere and love him, thank my old friend, Samp W. Harris, for writing me his hearty cooperation and encouragement, and regret that this splendid hero of our army of heroes, competent in every regard, and an ornament to and inspiration in the state capitol, was not reappointed by this governor.

"As to custom of indorsement," he said, "it is all right when we do indorse, but when we don't indorse, it we put conscience in our baliots, how can we indorse when we don't indorse, and the patriot, not the follower of men, but of principles, must say, 'If I don't indorse I cannot indorse.'"

His speech was drawn to a close by a reference to the bright future in store for the democratic party, an predicted the election of a democratic president in 1912, if not this year, who, when elected, would deal justice with such sanity, moderation and conservatism as would retain this party in power in Washington for a long and prosperous era. Colonel Cox returned to Atlanta tonight.

JOE BROWN CLUB IN WALTON

Mayor Roberts, of Monroe, Was Made President.

Monroe, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—At an enthusiastic meeting of the supporters of Hon. Joseph M. Brown in this city a few days since, the Walton county Joe Brown club was organized, with Mayor E. W. Roberts, of this city, president; E. M. Williams, secretary, and several vice presidents. More than five hundred names have been secured to the club.

The supporters of Mr. Brown in Walton are earnest and active. At a meeting of the club to be held next Saturday an executive committee, embracing every district in the county, will be named.

SPEECH BY LIVINGSTON.

Large Audience Heard Congressman Livingston at Douglasville.

Douglasville, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Hon. L. F. Livingston, congressman from this district, spoke to a large audience at the courthouse here yesterday at the noon hour. He was well received and was applauded many times during his speech.

Colonel Livingston reviewed his record since he has been in congress and took up most of his time refuting charges said to have been made against him.

He promised the voters present that if he lived and was sent back to congress he would use his utmost endeavor to have a government road built from Atlanta to Waco and passing through this place.

Shot Grazed Woman's Ear.

Macon, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Jack Bass, a clerk in the grocery store of L. S. McConnell, in East Macon, found himself in a difficulty with an obstinate negro drayman this evening that resulted in the firing of several shots, one of which barely grazed the ear of Mrs. H. C. Parker, standing on the opposite side of the street.

The drayman made threats at Bass and pretended that he was getting his pistol when the clerk fired. The negro was not hurt.

Why He Was Discharged.

(From Bohemian.)

Office Boy—What am I fired for?

Employer—For constantly smoking cigarettes. You have heard, haven't you, that where there is so much smoke there must be some fire?

Old People Must Give the Bowels Help

The muscles of the bowels become less active with age. They must have help.

That help should be regular. Don't wait till you need something violent.

It should be gentle and natural. One can't take harsh physic persistently without infinite harm.

People who must take laxatives regularly should take nothing but Cascarets.

Salts and pill cathartics irritate the bowels until the lining grows calloused. Then one needs larger doses.

Take one tablet as often as necessary to insure one free movement daily. Learn how much help you need.

Then be persistent and regular. Never give the poison a chance to accumulate. Keep yourself well.

You would wreck the bowels if you did that with harsh cathartics.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure to get the genuine, with C C C on every tablet. The box is marked like this:

Cascarets

The vest-pocket box is 10 cents. The month-treatment box 50 cents. 12,000,000 boxes sold annually. 826

WAS FOUND DEAD ON RIVER BANK

Believed That Mental Derangement Caused Suicide of A. S. Mapp.

Late Tuesday afternoon a request came to police headquarters for the department to institute a thorough search for A. S. Mapp, 29 years old, a collector for the Morrow Transfer Company, and a resident of 593 South Pryor street, who had left home suddenly and left a note to his wife. The notice came to the police from Mapp's wife, and ran as follows: "Look out for A. S. Mapp, 29 years of age, 5 ft. 10 in., 140-150 pounds, light complexion, gray eyes, clean shave, dark clothes, gray hat. Disappeared from home, 593 S. Pryor street, Tuesday, 1 p. m."

Early Wednesday morning Mapp's lifeless body was found near Bolton, on the Chattahoochee river. His right hand still held a pistol, one of the chambers of which was empty. Investigation showed that the bullet went crashing through the man's mouth. The evidence showed a plain case of suicide.

The body was removed to Harry Poole's undertaking establishment, where an inquest will be held during the day.

Mapp left a note at his residence, asking forgiveness of his wife for the deed. A prayer for all his relatives was also found in his pocket after the act, written on an envelope.

The cause of the suicide was probably mental derangement. Mapp's physician stated that he had treated him for meningitis and severe headaches, and that he believed distraction prompted the deed.

Adrian S. Mapp married Miss Ball, of Hapeville, about six months ago. The couple seemed to be happy and on the best of terms. Mapp was a trusted employee of the Morrow Transfer Company, where his accounts are said to be straight.

The funeral will occur this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Harry Poole's chapel, and the interment will be in Mount Zion church yard. Henry Mapp, the dead man's father, and family, who reside in Conyers, have been notified.

Pythians Turned Down.

Jefferson City, Mo., May 13.—The supreme court today denied the application of the supreme lodge of the Knights of Pythias for a writ of mandamus to compel the state superintendent of insurance to issue a license to do business in Missouri. The lodge sought to come under the provisions of regular life insurance laws as a beneficial association.

Dealing in Cotton Futures.

Baton Rouge, La., May 13.—Paul M Pott, president of the Louisiana division of the Southern Cotton Association, announced here today that a bill would be introduced in the Louisiana house of representatives prohibiting dealing in cotton futures.

DYNAMITE WAS PUT ON TRACK

Another Attempt Made to Blow Up Street Car at Pensacola.

Pensacola, Fla., May 13.—A pound stick of dynamite found this afternoon on the Bay Shore line of the Pensacola Electric Company revealed another attempt to blow up the cars on that line. The dynamite had been placed at a point two miles from the city where the tracks at the electric cross the Perdide railroad tracks, and had been so placed that the engines would touch it.

An engine going out before the cars started this morning dislodged the dynamite and it rolled to the edge of the track, where it could do no damage. It was there found this afternoon by men walking to the city and was reported at once to a track walker, who removed the dynamite, turning it over to the police.

It is believed that the dynamite was intended for the first car to go out this morning, which had half a dozen trailers attached, containing three or four hundred navy yard workmen. A wrapper disclosed the fact that the dynamite had been purchased from the Aetna Powder Company of Chicago. A report was also made to the police tonight that the last car from Fort Barrancas over this line was fkired upon last night as it was coming to the city, but none of the shots struck the car.

EFFORT WAS MADE TO ROB PARTY OF AUTOMOBILISTS

Wires Were Stretched Across Track and When Machine Was Stopped Shots Were Fired.

Montgomery, Ala., May 13.—Great indignation is felt at the effort of miscreants to hold up and rob occupants of Major R. E. Steiner's automobile last night, and heavy rewards are to be offered for them by Major Steiner and the automobile agencies. On a road just out of the city three large wires were stretched across the track.

The machine broke one but was stopped by the others. At once shots were fired at the party from the hedge nearby and they barely escaped with their lives. The sheriff has sent a special detail to try to run the guilty ones down. Major Steiner is a director in the Western of Alabama and the Central of Georgia railways.

Night Riders Burn Barn.

West Union, Ohio, May 13.—Night riders last night applied a torch to the large barn of William Shell, four miles west of this city, almost under the noses of soldiers.

TEMPLARS MEET AT VALDOSTA

The Parade of the Order Was a Most Inspiring Event.

Valdosta, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—The forty-seventh annual conclave of the grand commandery of Georgia met with Malta Commandery No. 16, Knights Templars, in this city today, with a very large attendance. The feature of greatest public interest was the inspiring parade of the order at 10:30 o'clock from the Valdes hotel to the Masonic hall. Three hundred men in glittering uniforms took part in the parade.

The afternoon session of the Grand Commandery of Georgia Knights Templars was devoted to hearing committee reports and the selection of the place for the next annual conclave. Brunswick gets the next meeting, which will be held on the second Wednesday in May.

Athens, Americus and Cordele were applicants for the honors.

Reports of the various committees this afternoon, showed that the Knights Templars are growing very rapidly in every section of the state, and that the order is in a most flourishing condition.

The election of officers is scheduled for tomorrow morning. A great many of the Masons attending the conclave are accompanied by their wives and daughters and a very delightful social feature of the conclave was the reception tendered the visiting ladies this afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. S. Holmes, on Patterson street, where the visitors were entertained by a committee of Valdosta ladies. The visitors will be tendered a fish fry and barbecue at Cranford park, near this city, at noon on Thursday.

RAN OVER LITTLE CHILD.

Father of Child Gave Thrashing to Cyclist, It Is Said.

Augusta, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—A 7-year-old daughter of R. S. Parks, of 1013 Broad street, was knocked down and run over yesterday by a motorcycle ridden by John Tidwell, an automobile and bicycle dealer, who was testing a new machine. The child's leg was broken and she was painfully bruised. Mr. Tidwell carried the little one to her home. Coming back down the steps he was met by Mr. Parks, the father, who administered a severe thrashing to Mr. Tidwell, it is said.

From the testimony of witnesses Mr. Tidwell was scarcely to blame for the accident. He made every effort to stop the motor, it is said, and finally threw himself from the seat, sustaining a fractured kneecap, but not preventing the collision.

ANNA AND HER PRINCE.

Couple at Monte Carlo—Prince Not Playing Heavily.

Monte Carlo, May 13.—The stay of Prince Helie de Sagan and Mme. Anna Gould, who arrived here yesterday from Genoa, probably will be not more than three days. They are stopping at one of the fashionable hotels. The prince played at the Casino last night and had a trifling loss. He said laughingly to a friend as he turned away from the tables: "I don't care to play heavily; my uncle, the Duke De Dino, already has made the family contribution to the tiger."

The Duke de Dino called at the hotel at 1 o'clock, bringing a large bouquet of roses. The prince and his uncle and Mme. Gould had lunch together, after which the prince and the duke visited the Casino.

Lieut. Arthur Ehrnbeck Missing.

Manila, May 13.—Second Lieutenant Arthur R. Ehrnbeck, corps of engineers, United States army, is missing from his station in Mindanao. He left Pintar alone one month ago, and has not been heard of since. It is feared he is dead.

Bolo Wounds Killed Gard.

Manila, May 13.—Allen Gard, governor of Lanao, is dead, the result of bolo wounds inflicted by Moros. He underwent a series of operations from which he gradually sank, and never rallied.

FEDERAL MONEY FOR GEORGIA

For new buildings, sites for which have already been obtained: Griffin $50,000, Newnan $45,000, Waycross $75,000 and provision for additional site.

For buildings and sites: LaGrange $50,000, Cordele $50,000, Dublin $50,000.

STOCK ISSUE BY NEW ROAD

Will Build Through Section Now Without Railroad Facilities.

The railroad commission yesterday granted authority to the Georgia, Alabama and Western Railroad Company to issue capital stock to the extent of $500,000, the proceeds to be used in the construction of its line from Camilla, in Mitchell county; through Newton, in Baker, to Fort Gaines, on the Chattahoochee river, a distance of sixty miles. Much of the grading for the new line has already been done, and, it is stated, construction will be pushed rapidly. The road has no bonds.

Field Day Is Arranged.

Augusta, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—The principals of the city public schools met yesterday at the office of Superintendent L. B. Evans and completed plans for the holding of a big field day May 30, in which the children of all the white schools in Richmond county will participate. A series of athletic contests and games will be inaugurated and prizes will be bestowed on the winners. A barbecue will be held and many other interesting features are planned for the outing.

Contesting Delegates Elected.

Lynchburg, Va., May 13.—The negroes of the sixth Virginia congressional district in convention here today denounced the recent lily white republican state convention and elected J. H. Wilson, of Keysville, and W. A. Merchant, of Lynchburg, as contesting delegates to the national republican convention. The convention adjourned to meet here at a later date to nominate a candidate for congress. Wilson, who was present at the convention, left tonight for Richmond to attend the state convention of the bolting negroes, to be held tomorrow. Eight counties of the district were represented in the meeting.

A PASTE INVESTIGATION HELD BY CITY COUNCILMEN

There was a city council investigation yesterday afternoon. It was conducted by the committee on public buildings and grounds, with Alderman Beutell, who asked for the investigation, added.

The city attorney was present to see that everything was done acording to law.

Witnesses were placed on the stand and duly sworn.

Then a verdict was reached and will be formally presented to the general council next Monday afternoon.

It was a paste investigation.

F. L. Boon, the engineer at the city hall, was arraigned. It was charged that he had allowed certain paper hangers and others to make paste in the city hall basement by using the steam which runs the elevator.

Granted Them a Privilege.

Three or four paper hangers in the city testified that Engineer Boon had granted them the privilege to cook paste in the basement by inserting a steam pipe in buckets of paste, and the process required only a minute or two without any material cost to the city of Atlanta. It was stated that this was a great accommodation to the paper hangers.

It was also f nevidence that this custom had prevailed at the city hall for the past twenty years, and that other engineers in large buildings assisted the paper men in the same way.

Engineer Boon, it was stated, had been paid small sums of money from time to time without any stipulated contract.

How He Used the Money.

The engineer stated that he had frequently used the money received in this way to buy things needed in his department. He also paid for his own telephone in the basement, and it was used for the city.

It came out that the negro janitor, Jackson, had made a remark about the engineer cooking paste and that there had been some friction between the engineer and the janitor because the former had been appointed to "boss" the latter.

The committee adopted a resolution exonerating the engineer from any wrongdoing, and he was notified not to cook any more paste until council gave him permission to do so.

Councilman Smith, chairman of the committee, gave notice that he would introduce a resolution in council to allow the engineer to cook paste for the paper men as an accommodation to them.

Thus ended the paste investigation.

MOREL FACTION DROPS CONTROL

Supreme Court Rules as to Stockholders' Agreement About Control of Road.

It was decided by the supreme court yesterday in the case of J. J. B. Morel v. S. C. Hoge that an agreement made between two factions of stockholders of a railroad incorporated by the secretary of state, each of which factions owns one-half of the capital stock, to the effect that one faction should have the right indefinitely to name the majority of the directors and thus control and manage the company's affairs, is contrary to public policy and, therefore, void.

The suit was the result of a dispute among the factions of stockholders in the Sylvania and Girard railroad, in Screven county one of the factions being headed by J. J. B. Morel and the other by L. H. Hilton, who appear to be business enemies. According to the agreement made by the stockholders, the Morel faction was to control the road. When the Hilton faction got control of a majority of the stock and sought to oust the Morel faction from control the suit was instituted with the result that the Hilton faction won in the lower court. The supreme court has sustained the decision of the trial court on the ground stated.

Doctor Sues for Fee.

In another interesting case, that of Norton v. Rourke, from Chatham county, the supreme court in affirming the lower court, held that where a person is taken suddenly sick and another party sends for a physician to attend him, the party sending for the physician cannot be held liable for the fee, even though the person attended by the physician happens to be his employee. In the case in question, it appears that a man employed on a tug owned by Rourke became suddenly ill and Dr. Norton was summoned to attend him. The physician afterwards sent his bill to Rourke, who declined to pay it; hence the suit.

Circumstantial Evidence.

Although convicted on purely circumstantial evidence, the supreme court affirmed the decision of Bibb superior court in the case of Oliver Brown, a railroad fireman, who was found guilty of murder. The homicide was the result of a dispute over a woman, and the deceased was killed by being shot through an open window in a dark room. Nobody saw the man who did the killing, but Brown had been heard to make threats against the deceased, and a shot gun with one of the shells freshly discharged was found hidden between the mattresses of his bed. There were other circumstances pointing to his guilt.

PUMP HOUSE BID ACCEPTED

Lowest Bid by the Griffin Construction Company For $29,330.

The contract for building the foundations and house for the new pump at Hemphill station was awarded to the Griffin Construction Company by a special committee from the water board yesterday afternoon.

All the bids for the work were referred to the finance committee, with the city engineeer and the general manager of the waterworks department, and that committee opened the bids, and found that the lowest was made by the company named. The bid was for $29,330.

The water board will meet this morning at 10:30 o'clock for the purpose of receiving the report of the committee.

The new pump (everybody remembers about the pump) is now being built in Wisconsin, and will be duly installed next spring. By that time the new reservoir will be ready, the new main from the river will be in use, and it is hoped by the waterworks department that the new main into the city will also be laid. With all of this done Atlanta's water supply will be sufficient for all purposes for many years to come.

DR. AINSWORTH OF SAVANNAH

the meeting. Mr. Bryan acknowledged the enthusiasm his name aroused by lifting his hands, and then indicated a desire to speak Friday.

It was from the utterance of Mr. Carnegie and those who followed him that the gravity of the problems to be considered were given weight. Two hundred years of coal supply and half that of iron was the prediction of the famous iron master.

There were ways by which both the coal and iron supply might be conserved, according to Mr. Carnegie—by economies in mining and in use, and the development of water transportation which he said required less of both products.

It was at the conclusion of Mr. Carnegie's address that the resolutions began to pour in. The two above referred to, which were read, received such approval that the prediction was made of their ultimate adoption.

Dr. I. C. White, of West Virginia, added expert knowledge and prediction on the subject of coal and iron, in which he predicted the exhaustion of the Pittsburg coal supply in ninety-three years, and the West Virginia fields in practically the same time.

Mitchell on Coal Waste.

John Mitchell, former head of the United Mine Workers of America, estimated that fully 25 per cent of the coal in the mines already developed had been wasted in mining, and a much greater percentage in use. Without such waste, which he believed might be overcome, the supply of coal would last 2,000 instead of 200 years, as predicted. He concluded with a plea for more attention to mine operatives, one of whom he said is killed and several injured with the mining of every 190,000 tons of coal.

Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, made a lively talk, in which he took issue with Mr. Carnegie's statement that wasteful methods prevailed in iron mining in the Lake Superior region. Two problems, he said, confronted the conference, one was the conservation of the nation's resources, the other the true development of industry. One, he said, was as great as the other.

Technical information was next supplied the conference by Dr. C. R. Van Heise, of the University of Michigan, and John Hayes Hammond, a mining engineer.

Root on Sovereignty.

The climax of the afternoon session was the speech of Secretary of State Elihu Root, who was received with great enthusiasm.

"Forty-four sovereign states are represented here today," said Mr. Root. "All are sovereign, here upon the invitation of the executive of the sovereign nation—the United States. No one can overestimate the importance of maintaining each and every one of the sovereignties of the states, and no one can overestimate the importance of maintaining the sovereignty of the United States. The nation cannot perform the function of the state's sovereignties. If it were to undertake to perform those functions it would break down—the machinery would not be able to perform the duty. The pressure is already very heavy upon the national machinery to do its work.

"I feel deeply impressed with the idea that the forty-six sovereign states, in the performance of their duties of government, are lagging behind the stage of development which the other sovereignties of the earth have reached. If you look at the international life of the world you will see that the correspondence between the nations is continually increasing—correspondence not in the letter-writing sense, but the intercommunication and understanding about the things they shall do in concert for the benefit of all their people. Now the states in the exercise of their sovereignties, in the exercise of the powers reserved to them, rest under the same kind of duty—a duty that forbids the people of any state to live unto itself alone.

States Should Do Duty.

"The constitution of the United States prohibits the states from making any agreement with each other without the consent of congress, but you can make any number of agreements with the consent of congress. It is high time that the sovereign states of the union should begin to perform their duty with reference not only to their own individual local interests, but with reference to the common good. I regard this meeting as marking a new departure—the beginning of an era in which the states of the union will exercise their reserved powers upon a higher plane of patriotism and love of country than has ever existed before."

The connection which the treasury department might bear to the questions under discussion was dwelt upon by Secretary George B. Cortelyou, who followed Mr. Root, briefly.

Governor Dawson, of West Virginia, dilated on the resources of his state and expressed his appreciation of the present effort to point out mistakes in methods.

The status of all delegates, whether governors or their special assistants, was settled by the adoption of a motion that all persons invited to the conequal privileges.

The resolutions committee, which consists of Governors Blanchard, of Louisiana; Fort, New Jersey; Cutler, Utah; Davidson, Wisconsin, and Ansel, South Carolina, will meet tomorrow. Two sessions of the conference will be held tomorrow.

MASONS MEET AT AMERICUS.

Three Hundred Present at Third District Convention.

Americus, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Three hundred delegates, representing the subdivision of the third district Masonic convention, assembled in Americus this morning in annual session.

Dr. F. B. Gregory welcomed the visiting delegations, while Rev. Bascom Anthony delivered the Masonic address before the convention. Following the consideration of routine business, the delegates were entertained at a banquet this evening, many ladies gracing the occasion with their presence. Lodges at De Soto, Ellaville, Plains, Leesburg Smithville and Americus were represented in the convention.

ADDRESS MADE BY ROOSEVELT TO CONGRESS OF GOVERNORS

Washington, May 13.—The address of President Roosevelt at the opening of the conference on the conservation of natural resources was a powerful and illuminating epitome of the prodigal policy pursued by the people of the United States toward the nation's assets, as well as a compelling call for such action on part of this congress assembled as would set the face of the country toward protective and economical measures.

The president sketched briefly the distinguished personnel of the conference, summoned by himself. It included, he showed, governors of the overwhelming majority of the American states, senators, representatives, members of the supreme court, publicists of international prominence and specialists in the various industries nearly or remotely affected by the devastating policies observed even to the present day.

Mission of the Conference.

"This conference," declared the president, "on the conservation of natural resources is in effect a meeting of the representatives of all the people of the United States called to consider the weightiest problem now before the nation; and the occasion for the meeting lies in the fact that the natural resources of our country are in danger of exhaustion if we permit the old wasteful methods of exploiting them longer to continue."

Resources and Prosperity.

Mr. Roosevelt summarized vividly the history of the development of natural resources, as worked out by varying peoples from the days of savagery to our own times. He traced progress up to the beginning of the career of the American nation, and speaking of the fact that our wealth had been gained by natural resources declared that "we are more, and not less, dependent upon what she furnished than at any previous time of history in the days of primitive man. He drew attention to the fact that Washington early realized that the only feasible way of preserving the union lay in preserving the natural resources which gave it eminence. To this end, he showed, the influence of the first president was seen in the outlining of a scheme for commercial development and a waterways commission by Virginia and Maryland.

The president also stressed the constitutional phase of conservation declaring that "the constitution of the United States thus grew in large part out of the necessity for united action in the wise use of one of our natural resources. The wise use of all of our natural resources as well, is the great material question of today."

Outlining the inseparable relation between the preservation of resources, and the prosperity of the nation, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"Disregarding for the moment the question of moral purpose, it is safe to say that the prosperity of our people depends directly on the energy and intelligence with which our natural resources are used. It is equally clear that these resources are the final basis of national power and perpetuity. Finally, it is ominously evident that these resources are in the course of rapid exhaustion.

"This nation began with the belief that its landed possessions were illimitable and capable of supporting all the people who might care to make our country their home, but already the limit of unsettled land is in sight, and indeed but little land fitted for agriculture now remains unoccupied save what can be reclaimed by irrigation and drainage. We began with an unapproached heritage of forests; more than half of the timber is gone. We began with coal fields more extensive than those of any other nation and with iron ores regarded as inexhaustible, and many experts now declare that the end of both iron and coal is in sight."

Faced by a Crisis.

Declaring that the time had come for action, the president said:

"We have become great because of the lavish use of our resources, and we have just reason to be proud of our growth. But the time has come to inquire seriously what will happen when our forests are gone, when the coal, the iron, the oil and the gas are exhausted, when the soils shall have been still further impoverished and washed into the streams, polluting the rivers, denuding the fields and obstructing navigation. These questions do not relate only to the next century or to the next generation. It is time for us now as a nation to exercise the same reasonable foresight in dealing with our great natural resources that would be shown by any prudent man in conserving and wisely using the property which contains the asurance of well-being for himself and his children."

Two Classes of Resources.

The president separated our resources into two classes: The first, such as coal and mineral bearing mines which must ultimately be exhausted at any rate; the second, such as waterways and water powers, forests and soils, which we could hand to posterity in an even improved condition.

Saving for Our Children.

Mr. Roosevelt pointed the folly of handing down worn-out farms to our children, when proper care would insure their fertility.

He stressed, too, the pressing necessity of forest preservation, declaring the country was on the verge of a timber famine.

He spoke of irrigation and reclamation as two factors making for future wealth.

Transportation Facilities.

He declared for great inland waterways, which should supplement transportation facilities already woefully inadequate.

Flood prevention and the navigability of rivers and harbors, he showed was affected by forest preservation.

His concluding arguments were directed to the constitutionality of the measures proposed, and our primary duty to ourselves and to posterity.

DEATH ENDS QUARREL.

Brothers Have Quarrel and One Shoots the Other.

West Point, Ga., May 13,—(Special.)—A shooting affray between two brothers, Abb and Henry Carrington, took place on the Trammell farm, five miles south of here on Monday afternoon and Henry Carrington died yesterday afternoon from a pistol shot wound in the head, the shot being fired by his brother, it is said.

From what can be learned the two brothers were quarreling over some money matters.

Since the shooting, it is alleged, Abb has tried several times to kill himself and has begged others to kill him after realizing what he had done.

Henry Carrington's remains were interred at Sardis church, near Whitesville.

EVERY TRAIN STOOD STILL

As Body of William J. Murphy Was Borne to Grave.

Cincinnati, May 13.—As the funeral cortege with the body of William J. Murphy, vice president of the Queen and Crescent line and president of several other railroads, passed over the Eighth street viaduct en route to St. Joseph's cemetery, all business on the big railroad system paused for full five minutes. Every train stood silent and every employee ceased his labors during that time as a mark of respect to his late employer.

Among the honorary pallbearers were President W. W. Finley, Vice President H. B. Spencer and Vice President J. M. Culp, of Washington; First Vice President A. B. Andrews, of Raleigh, N. C., of the Southern railway; the trustees of the Cincinnati Southern railway and prominent local friends and business associates, while more than two hundred officials and employees of the system attended the funeral, coming from all points from New York and Washington to New Orleans.

Lumber Case Argued.

Macon, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—W. A. Wimbish and A. S. Brandeis were the speakers before Judge Speer in the United States district court today in the argument submitted in the lumber rate case of Tift against the railway lines of the Southeastern Freight Association. Attorney Wimbish concluded the argument he took up yesterday in behalf of the complaining lumbermen. Following him, Attorney Brandeis began his defense of the carriers in an effort to clear them of the charge that they have forfeited the bond in the litigation. The arguments will probably be concluded tomorrow.

CAST FIRST VOTE FOR CLEVELAND

President Paxon of Brown Club Gives Out Statement.

President F. J. Paxon, of the Fulton County Joe Brown Club, has given out the following:

Editor Constitution: In reply to a rumor to the effect that I am a member of the republican party. I beg leave to state that I have no allegiance, directly or indirectly, with the republican party, nor am I a member of it, nor have I ever held any office within the gift of that party. Coming to Georgia in the year 1887, when 21 years of age, I allied myself with the democratic party, and have been a consistent member ever since. I have ipvariably voted in the democratic primaries and in the general election for the nominees thereof. My first vote was cast for Cleveland in 1888. I am frank to state that if I had voted four years ago I would probably have voted for Theodore Roosevelt, whom I then considered as good a democrat as there was in that party.

I am supporting Mr. Joseph M. Brown primarily because an intimate, personal friendship for over twenty years has satisfied me that he is a man of superb moral character. This conviction has accrued from our relationship in the Second Baptist church, of which both of us are members, and of which Dr. John E. White is pastor.

I am for him, in the second instance, because, as a business man, it is my judgment that the business interest of this state requires an immediate change in the administration.

BEWARE OF THE BRIDGE OVER PEACHTREE CREEK

Drivers of teams and especially automobilists using Peachtree road are warned to be careful in approaching the bridge over Peachtree creek. The work of tearing away the old steel bridge to make way for the handsome concrete viaduct which will take its place has begun. Barriers and red lights have been placed to warn vehicles to keep off the bridge but it is feared that owing to the steep hills on either side of the bridge there may be some accident unless those using the road remember that the old bridge cannot be used. A temporary bridge has been constructed just above the steel bridge and good roadways leading up to it have been provided.

The new bridge will be put up by the Solomon-Norcross Company and will add greatly to the beauty of this already beautiful driveway. It is to be eighty feet wide and 186 feet long and will have no overhead beams. Paul H. Norcross, one of the engineers who will build the new bridge, says that when completed it will be one of the finest in the county.

CLAIMED HOME WAS INVADED.

When Hairfield Refused to Sign Paper He Was Killed.

Richmond, Va., May 13.—Claiming that the man had invaded his home, W. C. Butler, a special watchman for the Chesapeake and Ohio railway, shot and killed J. J. Hairfield, a carpenter. Butler approached Hairfield with the demand that the latter sign a paper affirming that he had been intimate with the former's wife, threatening that he would kill him if he failed to attach his signature to the paper.

Hairfield refused indignantly, saying "You'll have to kill me. I know you've got a pistol." He started to walk away when Butler opened fire. Hairfield fell mortally wounded.

BODY FOUND TO BE NEGRO'S.

Inquiries Received from Atlanta in Regard to Body.

Columbus, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—The body found in the Chattahoochee river, several miles south of Columbus, has been identified as that of a negro. Letters were received by the Columbus police today from Atlantic asking for a minute description of the corpse, as it was feared that it might be J. L. Nash, who disappeared near Atlanta and is supposed to have been murdered or else drowned in the Chattahoochee. The theory in Atlanta was that the body might be Nash. Mr. Nash left life insurance and the policies are being held up until proof of his death is established.

Oil Tank Fired by Lightning.

CONSTITUTION PUBLISHING CO.

ATLANTA, GA., May 14, 1908.

It seems impossible to keep the lid on the Georgia political pot.

Taft to Fairbanks: "Take any delegates I happened to overlook."

Still, the talk of statesmen is cheaper than the building of more battleships.

No, the president didn't call it "My Congress," but that was the intention of him.

All roads lead to the White House, and the more distinguished travelers the merrier.

As to the Pine Knot trip, does congress think it made the president take to the woods?

Having succeeded in managing a wild state like Texas, Bailey deserved better than a sentence to the senate.

An Ohio exchange says, "Foraker dies hard." But he neither dies nor resigns from the Brownsville brigade.

If Taft is such a great peacemaker, how is it that he can't place the republican party in a state of harmony?

An Arkansas exchange says Davis wants to be let alone." But think!—he commenced with the country first.

The friends of Fairbanks say that he will "sweep the field;" but he has mighty few delegates at the broom-handles.

The Washington Post has an article—"Why Washington Grows." The answer is: Because congress is away all summer.

Orderly Indiana literature didn't didn't need that murder farm in its business, but it is bound to make the most of it.

In case of a smallpox epidemic in Minnesota, the Detroit Free Press thinks Bryan might have Johnson quarantined.

The mint crop of Maryland is finer than ever, but Marylanders have not the Wattersonian receipt for the making of a julep.

Of course, Taft left his campaign in good hands. Just wing a wild shaft at it, and you'll hear from his illustrious manager.

"Mr. Rockefeller doesn't love the limelight." But he doesn't hide behind a battery of oil cans when it is aimed his way.

There is consolation still: Candidates who don't take the nomination can take the platform and make $50,000 a year anyhow.

Rear Admiral Evans is in favor of fewer statesmen. Though the old seafighter has been much at sea he knows how the public pulse beats.

The Matteawan authorities sent Harry Thaw his clothes—another evidence that they did not believe he was clothed in his right mind.

The country is not without hope that they may yet find some poor, unknown brother who may be willing to be the tail to the presidential kite.

THE FRUIT OF A REVOLUTIONARY RULE.

It is already becoming apparent that if the new revolutionary rule, through which, in state affairs, one city county has been made the equivalent of twenty-five or thirty country counties, where it was but equal to three before, is to become the fixed party policy, the country counties will find themselves mere way stations on the great political highway of Georgia!

Once they ruled; now they are to be ruled!

There is evidence enough, even in advance of the primary.

Candidates are addressing their campaign appeals to the larger counties of the state; to those which have the larger population, hence the larger vote.

What need to go and fight for Banks or Heard, for Towns or Catoosa, for Webster or Wilcox, or for the 107 other one-representative counties, when there is more to be gained, than in one of these, by good work done in a couple of city blocks?

And so it seems the little counties, that once held sway, are already being shunted toward the sidetrack.

The counties of the ninth congressional district realized this and, in convention at Gainesville, adopted ringing resolutions denouncing the methods by which they are to be deprived of what they regard their constitutional rights.

Under the constitutional plan, once the county with 500 votes possessed one-third the power of that with 15,000; but where is it today?

What need to struggle to carry it and earn its vote, when there is so much bigger game? When, in fact, it has so little to offer?

Once it was a political power to be reckoned with, possessing a strength equivalent to its voice in making legislation; now it is not even so much as a militia district in Fulton or Chatham or Richmond or Bibb.

Is it right that Georgia's six city counties should have the power to annul the vote of her 113 one-representative counties?

Is it just that these six city counties should have the force and strength to overcome the vote of the entire twenty-six two-representative counties?

If not, that injustice should be repaired before it is too late.

And there is yet time to make that reparation.

Thomas E. Watson calls striking attention to this fact in his current issue of The Jeffersonian, when he says:

> Unless Hoke Smith has his committee to come together and undo what they have done BEFORE THE JUNE ELECTION, the success of Smith in this race will be taken to be a ratification of the new rule in favor of the big cities.
> Then "Goodbye" to country influence in Georgia affairs!

Mr. Watson has discussed the proposition, as has The Constitution, from the standpoint of the governmental principle involved.

The makers of the state constitution, following the precedent of years, thought it wrong that the few larger and more populous counties should govern the entire state, and, as to legislation, they made it impossible until the constitution shall have been changed.

And so the party thought, until the new rule came and put the country counties out of business.

There is yet opportunity to mend the error and restore to the country counties the rights that are justly theirs.

Full three weeks remain before the state primary will be held—time and to spare in which the state committee may meet, recall the rule that came to the people from their constitution and go on record for the right.

Will the committee do it?

ATLANTA AND THE SOUTH NEEDS THIS CONVENTION.

The movement, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, to organize a Georgia branch of the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education, should enlist the aggressive interest not only of all educators in this state, but of business and professional men in every walk of life and club-women as well.

Atlanta is confronted by the opportunity to bring to this city next fall the national convention of the body to which reference has been made.

It is imperative to that end, however, that a state branch of the society be organized in this city tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock, at a called meeting, to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, in the Empire building.

Among the men of national reputation members of and actively interested in the work of the society are President Roosevelt, President Eliot of Harvard, Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, Carroll D. Wright, Secretary of Agriculture James S. Wilson, and many others distinguished for their prominence in the educational, economic and sociological counsels of the nation. A large number of these men of standing and influence will be present at the fall convention, now sought to be secured for Atlanta.

Dr. K. G. Matheson, president of the Georgia School of Technology, has interested the Chamber of Commerce in the movement. Leaders in all grades of educational work, business and professional men generally, and the intelligent and patriotic women who are laboring toward a solution of the south's educational problems, will, we believe, consider it no less a privilege than a duty to identify themselves with the organization to be effected tomorrow afternoon.

The problem of industrial training is, unquestionably, one of the most prominent among the many now facing the people of the southern states. Striking down to the very vitals of agricultural and industrial development, affecting the earning capacity of the boy of today and the man of tomorrow, it challenges the most intelligent patriotism of this section.

Industrial training furnishes the key that must unlock the treasure-house of the south's natural resources, the extent of which we are just beginning to appreciate. Its intensified application, in every county in every state, means such practical development of our assets as will make the south the wealthiest and most independent territory of equal size in the world.

The convention mentioned will be a far step in that direction.

AN EPOCH-MAKING ASSEMBLY.

Theodore Roosevelt could safely rest his case with posterity if he accomplished no more constructive work for the nation than that which bears fruit in the current congress of the governors of American states, now in session in Washington city.

These men, chief executives of sovereign American commonwealths from ocean to ocean, are met to debate a problem that stretches its phases far into the unseen destiny of America. Taking note of the wanton rate at which we have been squandering the natural resources upon which the present wealth and the future promise of the country are builded, they are to consider such steps as will save to the nation its threatened birthright.

It is not hyperbole to state that no such representative gathering of Americans has assembled within the recollection of any man of our day; surely, none charged with any mission more portentous.

The governors, or their accredited representatives, as well as the varying delegations of publicists and experts, come straight from the people. Their credentials are the needs of 85,000,000 people united by mutual interests, knowing no partisan or geographical boundaries in the larger call of the hour. Their purpose is single, undivided, compelling.

It is the sectional, the national and the international welfare with which these men must deal, for the promise of a nation is dependent upon the preservation of its assets. In the birth of this undertaking, that marks an epoch of broader vision, let us not forget the initiative and the intelligent persistence of Mr. Roosevelt.

DEVELOPING GEORGIA'S PEACH INDUSTRY.

An industry which stands as one of the most convincing current instances of the power of Georgia thrift and the versatility of Georgia soil, is that which has so rapidly grown into large proportions from the cultivation of the peach in this state.

Peach-growing is relatively new in Georgia, as we count the duration of crops which bring annually millions of dollars into the state. In the few years of its existence it has increased by leaps and bounds. Discounting the effects of off-years, it has come to be regarded as one of the most reliable income-producers in the range of our assets.

Point is lent this comment by the gathering of the Georgia Peach Growers' Association in this city. These gentlemen, hailing from every section given over to the production of this luscious fruit, calculate that the forthcoming yield will reach unprecedented proportions—probably seven to eight thousand cars.

In debating the best means for economically and profitably handling so tremendous an output, they have suggested that various orchards install canneries to preserve the surplus portion of the crop. The idea is a most happy one.

The science of preservation has reached that point where fruit is made to retain its natural appearance, soundness and flavor almost indefinitely. Peaches are a staple article of food throughout the country, and there is no reason why the surplus yield should not be made to render large profits the year round.

"Just From Georgia"

"Gittin' Ready."

Gittin' ready fer the weather,
When it's fur beyond control;
When the lightnin' plays at leapfrog
With the clouds, and thunders roll!

Gittin' ready fer the weather—
There'll be pleasant tales to tell
When you see the Georgia melon
Come a-drippin' from the well!

An' the peach is gittin' rosy,
An' the apple's takin' red,
Love in violets—a-sayin'
Sweeter words than yet he's said!

Ain't the old world lookin' brighter?
Joy no more is standin' dumb;
In a very storm o' blossoms
Happiness is sayin'—"Come!"

The Bard and the Baby.

The Bentztown Bard has turned his attention to child-lyrics, and writes of "A Baby's Hands:"

"Pink and silken and softly white
As a lily of love in the lanes of light;
Round and chubby and made to kiss

"Tender, fragile, and reaching up
Tossing, whirling, wild and free

And the congregation, too.

"Farewell the hard-worked author
Who needs a restful trip,
And fare-you-well the creditors
Loud howling at his ship!

"But not for us the stormy foam—
The rest that Europe makes;
Our sad vacation's spent at home

HIGH PRICE FOR JERSEYS.

Overton Hall Jersey Cattle Sale Showed High Price.

Nashville, Tenn., May 13.—The Overton Hall Jersey cattle sale was concluded yesterday afternoon, eighty being sold at an average price of $430, or a total of $35,000. Following are those which brought fancy prices yesterday afternoon:

Fox's Fern Lad, to Thomas Dempsey, of Waterville, Ohio, for $500.

Letters from the People

As to Tuberculosis.

Editor Constitution: There is a great deal of nonsense, yea, tommy-rot written, and worse than that, published on the subject of tuberculosis. From many of the dissertations on the subject one would judge that a patient suffering from the disease shows it so plainly there should be no trouble at all in promptly diagnosing the disease and keeping those patients out of "summer resorts."

From personal experience of four years in Arizona, southern California and old Mexico, where I saw and suffered from the disease, also from the standpoint of an "exlunger," that is a "cured" tubercular patient, I give you the following propositions:

1. That there is more danger today in Atlanta from "shoppers," people walking the streets on Whitehall, Peachtree, etc., caused by indiscriminate expectoration from everybody (with a law against it, too) than there is in Phoenix, Ariz., where 10,000 consumptives go each year.

2. That there is no danger possible from the disease—even by sleeping in the same room with the patient—except by the drying of the sputum. That there is no way on earth of "catching" tuberculosis except by the drying of the sputum and the germs therein floating in the air to be inhaled by a healthy person, and that healthy person has to be "run down" to be affected. You cannot "catch" tuberculosis in any other way. You can be thrown with a patient all you wish, but unless the sputum from that patient becomes dry and floats in the air no person can be affected under any other circumstances.

3. Some of the healthiest looking specimens of humanity are "lungers." With all the "thumping" on the chest an ordinary physician may give a patient, without an examination of the sputum, no authoritative diagnosis can be made.

4. All of this continuous writing of cards about the danger, etc., of consumptives "who do not know how to take care of themselves" causes a great deal of unnecessary harm and alarm. There is no "taking care" of the patient necessary so far as danger to well people is concerned, except to destroy by fire or other suitable ways the sputum of that patient.

5. It is a great injustice to keep harping on the danger to other people from a consumptive. There is danger, yes, but just as much from typhoid fever or a bad cold. There are hotels—one in North Carolina—which advertise "Positively no consumptives taken," and I know of six or eight "lungers" who visited that hotel and were never detected and no harm done—none could be done.

6. Educate the people, yes, but stop all that akin-to-leprosy talk, for it is worse than bosh.

SALVATION ARMY ASKS FOR CASTOFF CLOTHING

When you are tired of that suit, don't throw it aside—let it be of further service in the world. The Salvation Army in its work among the poor and needy of Atlanta can use a whole lot of the things that one throws aside as unfit for further use. They have both telephone connections, Bell, Main 2960, and Atlanta phone 2288. They also have a wagon for this very purpose and can send around to your home for any article that you would be pleased to give them. Cast-off clothing of any kind, boots, shoes, rubbers, hat, caps and bonnets, carpets, rugs and curtains, rags, rope, magazines, books and newspapers, furniture of any kind and condition, stoves and kitchen utensils, crockery and glassware, baby carriages, ice boxes and woodenware, mattresses, bedding, etc., are always acceptable.

ARRANGEMENTS ARE MADE FOR CITIZENSHIP LEAGUE

The eleventh anniversary conference of the National Good Citizenship League will be held in Atlanta, May 21 and 22. Arrangements for the meeting are rapidly approaching completion and the program, which will be a most excellent one, will be announced in a few days.

The main purpose of this movement is to promote the practice of good citizenship and the study and advancement of good government.

The committee on arrangements is working to make this meeting eminently successful and productive of great and lasting good, not only to this community, but to the state and nation. All the meetings will be conducted in public and a cordial invitation is extended to every one to attend.

SQUABBLE OVER BRYAN.

Louisiana Legislature Finally Laid Matter on the Table.

Baton Rouge, La., May 13.—Sentiment regarding the presidential race was shown to be divided in the Louisiana house of representatives today when the resolution inviting Hon. William J. Bryan to address the body came up. The resolution had been amended so as to include Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, and Senator Culberson, of Texas.

Representative Locke opposed the amendment resolution, saying Mr. Bryan would undoubtedly be the choice of the democrats at Denver, and he offered a substitute resolution indorsing him.

A motion was then made to lay the whole matter on the table and this motion was carried by an overwhelming vote.

INTERSTATE SHIPMENTS.

Question in Regard to Whisky Involved in Indictments.

Montgomery, Ala., May 13.—The question of the right to ship whisky from one state to another may be again tested in indictments against A. Reid, of Columbus, Ga. Reid has a whisky house in Montgomery and the charge against him involves the transfer of goods from here there. Four bills were found.

Hollowell Sued Alleged Night Riders for $50,000.

Paducah, Ky., May 13.—The jury in the case of Robert E. Hollowell, who sued his brother, John E. Hollowell, and twenty-seven other alleged night riders of Caldwell county for $50,000 damages for driving him and his family from the state, brought in a verdict today awarding the plaintiff $35,000.

Receiver for Insurance Company.

Kansas City, Mo., May 13.—Judge McCuenon, in the court here, late yesterday appointed William Barton, a local business man, receiver for the Great Western Insurance Company agency. BOTH SIDES OF THE RACE AS VIEWED BY STATE PRESS

HOT SHOT FROM TOM WATSON.

(Tom Watson in The Jeffersonian.)

In the last of the many statements made by the Honorable Hoke in reference to that famous telegram, we understood him to say that his true position—sifted down and with all the chaff out—is that he favors "light wines and beer" for other states.

Well now, if it is a good thing to have light wines and beer, why shouldn't dear old Georgia have some?

But if it is a bad thing to have light wines and beer, why give it to the "other states"? We don't like this new variety of temperance sauce which is not as good for the gander as it is for the goose.

The somewhat excited Atlanta Journal exclaims that "Little Joe" has made five different platforms on the prohibition question.

Yet none of the five seem to favor the use of light wines and beer. Not even "for other states."

The big cities having refused to close such establishments as the Piedmont bar, the small counties, acting through the legislature, did it for them.

Apparently, the big counties are getting ready to hit back. When the new rule of the new committee goes into effect, it will be possible to elect a governor who will exert all of his power to restore former conditions, thus leaving the small counties "dry" and the big cities "wet."

Our handsome, eloquent and beloved friend, Seaborn Wright, fancied that he had something to say upon the gubernatorial race, and he began a double-column performance in The Atlanta Journal. By the time he reached the bottom of the page he suddenly discovered that he hadn't said anything; so he got disheartened and quit.

What was it that you started out to say, Seab?

As to that violation of the law in the making of such a big deposit in the Neal Bank, the question remains, Did Governor Smith act in wilful disregard of the law, or was he ignorant of the statute which limits a deposit of state funds, in any one bank, to $100,000?

At the time he renewed the fifty-thousand-dollar note which the state owed the bank, the bank owed the state more than twice that sum. The state deposit was already illegal. By renewing the note and thus adding to the deposit, Governor Smith became a party to this violation of the law.

Why did he do this?

Was it done wilfully, or through ignorance?

The chairman of the railroad commission being laid up with the rheumatism, and the other four members being sufferers, apparently from locomotor-ataxia, why shouldn't Judge Hines go abroad making speeches?

The enlarged and high-priced commission doesn't at present need lawyers; what it wants is a medical staff.

The announcement is made that our governor will continue to rampage around on the stump, from now until June 4; and that Judge Hines is going to rush out and say it again; and that Congressman Hardwick is going to tear himself away from his post of duty in Washington and come all the way to Georgia to tell us poor, ignorant creatures how we must vote for governor.

What an awful agony we're in, to be sure!

Why so much stump-speaking on the Hoke Smith side?

Nobody is making any speeches for Joe Brown. He goes along quietly, conducting his campaign by mail and by communications addressed to the newspapers. In this way, he reaches the people, and he is satisfied to leave the case in their hands, without further discussion.

The mails and the newspapers are as open to him as they are to "Little Joe"; is he afraid to trust the people to pass on the case after a calm comparison of what each candidate says in writing?

So it seems.

We think that Governor Smith would gain votes by staying at his office and attending to the duties thereof. If we don't need him in his office, then the sooner we abolish the office and stop the expense, the better.

As to Judge Hines, we have already said that our new commission seems to need pills, plasters, wizard oil and trained nurses more than it needs legal advice; therefore, the state won't lose anything by Judge Hines' absence from his office.

As to Congressman Hardwick, we believe that our able young friend will remain on duty in Washington, where extremely important legislation requires his presence, and where, as our representative, he should give us the full benefit of his talent, energy and influence.

If one of our congressmen should set the example of coming home to tell us how to vote on June 4, the whole delegation might come tumbling down on us, and that wouldn't do, at all.

Let our members of congress attend to their duties in Washington; that's what they are paid to do.

Suppose every liquor-dealer and every anti-prohibitionist in Georgia should vote for Hoke Smith—how would that affect the prohibition law that is already on the statute book?

Don't you know that the governor cannot amend, repeal, or make a law? The legislature does that, of course. Consequently the prohibition law is perfectly safe, if your legislature is, no matter whom you elect governor.

If Brown should be nominated at the primary of June 4, the prohibition law would be absolutely unaffected by that result. Why? BECAUSE YOU WILL HAVE ALREADY SELECTED THE MEN FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

If you have chosen safe men for the legislature, your prohibition act is safe. No thanks to Smith or Brown. If you have chosen unsafe men for the legislature, your prohibition law is unsafe. No blame to Smith or Brown.

If the temperance sentiment was so strong as to wring the prohibition law from the legislature, when Governor Hoke Smith was opposed to it, how can the law be repealed or injuriously amended, now that both Smith and Brown declare that they will veto any adverse legislation?

Suppose we had suspected, in 1906, that the first thing Hoke Smith would do after he became governor would be to make an addition of two members to our railroad commission and to bounce up salaries all around—does anybody believe that we would have worked as hard for him as we did?

Suppose the people had been frankly told that he had it up his sleeve to lie down on the governorship, during his first term, and make the race for the senate this year, does anyone believe that he could have been elected? Suppose he had let it be known that he was going to reverse himself on that matter of the early primary and was going to sanction revolutionary methods to deprive the small counties of their constitutional rights, wouldn't he have been the worst beat man that ever ran for office?

And suppose we had imagined him capable of abandoning his office at the state house, assigning the chief clerk for duty at his campaign headquarters, and leaving a nigger in charge of the executive office—wouldn't he have been jeered off the field?

As to Joe Brown, HE has no consuming ambition to go to the United States senate, nor to be named as vice president on the national democratic ticket; consequently, it would not interfere with any of HIS selfish plans if the state of Georgia should cast her electoral vote for a native Georgian. Joe Brown, a native Georgian, would probably not consider the state disgraced by complimenting Mr. Watson. Hoke Smith, ex-member of Cleveland's cabinet, not a native Georgian, would probably feel that he should resort to every possible stratagem to hold the state in her place as a political rotton borough—the pawn to be moved as Tammany and Wall street will it in the great game of national politics.

Our friends throughout the state will find much food for serious thought in this suggestion.

Some of the Hoke Smith shouters who are pretending to feel alarm for the disfranchisement amendment are really making all that noise for the purpose of keeping the people from looking at something else—to wit, the new rule of the Hoke Smith committee which deprives minority counties of representation and which takes away from the small counties the share of power allotted to them by our state constitution.

In other words, the Hoke Smith committee has amended our constitution to suit themselves, and the people are asked to ratify the outrage by electing Hoke Smith again.

No wonder these tricksters raise a false alarm over prohibition and disfranchisement!

The four big cities of this state were given, by the constitution of 1877, twice as much political power as 26 next largest counties, and three times as much as all the others.

The framers of the constitution debated the subject thoroughly, and this division of power was thought to be the best that could be made.

So matters stood until we elected Hoke Smith governor. Apparently he or his advisers were not satisfied with our constitution, and wanted to change it. Knowing that the people of the country counties would never vote to deprive themselves of their constitutional rights, these city politicians slipped a new rule into the Macon platform, and have thus revolutionized our system. Instead of having twice as much power as the twenty-six "next largest counties," the big cities will have ten or fifteen times as much. Instead of having three times as much power as the hundred and odd small country counties, the big cities will have thirty times as much.

Unless Hoke Smith has his committee to come together and undo what they have done BEFORE THE JUNE ELECTION, the success of Smith in this race will be taken to be a ratification of the new rule in favor of the big cities.

The Taint.

(From The Sparta Ishmaelite.)

In 1868, 1872 and 1876, Joseph E. Brown was admittedly republican for "policy's" sake. Is it unnatural that the son should be eagerly sought by the republicans and Lily Whites? The taint of the scalawag and the carpet-bagger is in the blood.

Made a Prohibitionist of Him.

(From The Cordele Rambler.)

Joe Brown is a pretty strong personality; Governor Smith is a big, strong man, and was always a whisky man, but card-writing Joe has made a prohibitionist out of him that bids fair to stick for a good while.

In the General Election.

(From The Sparta Ishmaelite.)

After having been previously indorsed by Major Hanson, and after having been recently indorsed by the negro republicans of Savannah, now isn't Joe Brown more fit to run for governor in the general election than in a democratic primary?

What About It?

(From The Covington Enterprise.)

One day this week a stranger came into town and circulated a flaming campaign circular headed, "Brown and Bread," all over our streets. Now what did it mean? Could it mean anything but that Joe Brown's managers are attempting to mislead the voters by proclaiming that to elect Joe Brown will be the only means of saving ourselves from actual starvation?

Anti-Saloon League Indorsement.

(From The Ashburn Farmer and Stockman.)

The leaders of the Georgia Anti-Saloon League are the best authorities we know of on the prohibition issue in the present gubernatorial campaign. They know all the ins and outs of it, and now that they have indorsed Hoke Smith for governor, it would be a safe thing for every prohibitionist in Georgia to follow these leaders and not be fooled by those who want us to believe that prohibition is not an issue at all.

A Call to Arms.

(From The Covington Enterprise.)

Seab Wright shows how openly they are attempting to deceive the voters by a campaign of misrepresentation and abuse against the present governor. He tells how the governor has stood between the railroads and the people and compelled them to give out simple justice to the people. And Seab Wright knows what he is talking about. Some time ago, before Mr. Wright made any public announcement as to his stand for governor, he told the people to "watch the line up" of the liquor men. He has watched it, and he has found, just as The Enterprise stated last week, that the whisky men are solidly lined up against Smith, and he became restless and has spoken out in meeting.

RULES ARE MADE FOR "NEAR" BEER

Committee Fixes License at $200.

CAN'T BE SOLD ON SUNDAY

Minors Must Not Buy It—Citizens Appear Before Committee and Make Talks—Difference of Opinion as to Amount of City License Tax.

The special "near" beer committee of the general council met yesterday morning and once more decided upon some rules and regulations for the sale of the beverage.

On motion of Councilman Huddleston it was agreed to have an ordinance reported to council which will fix one license tax of $200 for the sale of "near" beer, to require applications to be made to council for all licenses and to prohibit the sale of "near" beer on Sunday and to minors. After this was adopted there was an amendment prohibiting free lunches served with "near" beer, requiring that when sold in bottles the metal covering be stamped with the name of the brewer, and prohibiting a transfer of licenses without permission of council.

Several citizens spoke before the committee. Among these was Dr. W. B. Parks, who said from a scientific standpoint "near" beer was very injurious, as were all drinks that contained alcohol.

Said Real Beer Was Sold.

Attorney John E. McClelland said that real beer was being sold in the city without being labeled and that the makers of "near" beer were as anxious as anybody else to have its sale regulated.

W. J. Govan said if council attempted to regulate "near" beer they should do it right or not at all. He said that people could drink too much coca-cola just as they could drink too much "near" beer, and he preferred the latter.

Attorney E. F. Childress, representing hotels and restaurants, asked that the giving of free lunches at "near" beer stands be prohibited.

John T. Hagan, an elderly citizen, asked that the sale of "near" beer be strictly regulated. He said that some of the so-called "near" beer "would make a lager-beer Dutchman drunk."

Mr. Hirsch, representing the Malt Mead Brewing Company, of Lexington, Ky., said his people were willing for the sale of all "near" beer to be taxed and regulated.

Councilmen Discuss It.

When the outsiders had had their say the committee took up the discussion.

Mr. Huddleston wanted a license of $200. Mr. Pittman wanted it fixed at $50. Mr. Spratling wanted it made $300; so did Mr. Harman and Mr. Johnson wanted it made $100.

Councilman Harman insisted upon the adoption of his ordinance which placed "near" beer under the same police regulations as was real beer last year. His motion to adopt the ordinance met with no second. Mr. Harman secured one amendment to the Huddleston resolution, which was to prohibit the transfer of any "near" beer licenses without permission from council.

The resolution offered by Mr. Huddleston was adopted with only one dissenting vote, that of Mr. Pittman.

Mr. Harman gave notice that he would make a minority report.

BAPTISTS MEET AT HOT SPRINGS

Hot Springs, Ark., May 13.—Delegates are arriving at Hot Springs on every train for the sixty-third annual session of the Southern Baptist convention, which meets in this city tomorrow. An unusually large attendance is looked for.

The sessions of the convention will be held in the large dining room of the Eastman hotel, which has been filled with 2,000 chairs. The convention proper holds its first session tomorrow night, at which time the annual sermon will be delivered, and officers for the present session will be elected.

The Rev. Lansing Burroughs, of Nashville, Tenn., is very favorably mentioned for the office of president.

Various meetings are being held today of organizations more or less closely connected with the convention. The Sunday school secretaries of the south met this morning to discuss plans for the increased efficiency of their work. The executive committee of the Woman's Missionary Baptist Union met to make plans for their annual meeting, which will be held tomorrow.

The Young People's Union of the south will hold its first session in the convention hall at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The meeting will be in charge of the Rev. W. W. Hamilton, of Atlanta, president.

Addresses will be delivered tonight by President E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, Ky., and by the Rev. George W. McDaniel, of Richmond, Va.

Sessions of the union will be held throughout the day tomorrow and several thousand people will be in attendance.

The Southern Baptist educational conference will hold its first session at 2 o'clock tomorrow. This meeting will be in charge of the president, Dr. F. W. Boatwright, of Richmond, Va.

BIGGEST SLUMP IN TAX RETURNS

Is Shown by 1908 Valuations of Atlanta and West Point.

The largest proportionate slump in corporation tax values yet recorded is shown in the returns of the Atlanta and West Point Railroad Company, which were made to Comptroller General W. A. Wright yesterday. This year the Atlanta Belt line, which is owned by this road, is included in the company's returns, so the comparison is made of the returns of both taken together for the years 1907 and 1908.

The total returns of the Atlanta and West Point for 1908 are $2,310,000, including the franchise, valued at $172,833, while the returns for 1907 were, total, $3,812,094, of which $1,608,439 was franchise.

Last year's valuation was fixed by arbitration. The tax valuation for 1908 is $1,502,094 less than for 1907, notwithstanding the fact that the return shows the road has acquired additional property, real and personal, worth $238,000. The chief falling off is in the franchise valuation.

According to the West Point's returns the road earned gross in 1906 $1,113,933, and in 1907 $1,196,964. Buts is operating expenses had increased from $695,361 in 1906 to $920,913 in 1907, and instead of a surplus of $208,609, which it set aside in 1906, only $64,477 went to surplus account in 1907.

Comptroller General Wright strongly intimated that he would not accept the return.

ATTACKS WERE UNFAIR AND MOST UNFORTUNATE

—H. M. Atkinson.

President of A., B. & A. Replies to Remarks Made by Governor Smith.

CAPITALISTS IN THE STATE WHEN ATTACK WAS MADE

Were Considering Making Further Investments in Georgia, Says Mr. Atkinson—Some Interesting Observations on Politics as Affecting Business.

PRESIDENT H. M. ATKINSON,
Of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad.

President H. M. Atkinson, of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad, well known as one of the most important constructive forces in the south, yesterday afternoon discussed financial and industrial questions in Georgia, with reference particularly to their relation to northern and eastern capital.

The interview was the result of a tour of inspection just completed by President Atkinson and several eastern capitalists, who are largely interested financially in the properties being constructed and developed by him, and which they wished to inspect in person, at the same time securing first-hand information concerning the situation in the south.

Mr. Atkinson took occasion to touch on the political situation and its relation to business enterprises. He spoke of the recent speeches made by Governor Hoke Smith in Atlanta, in which the governor referred to "H. M. Atkinson and his moneyed associates." He expressed regret that Governor Smith should have taken occasion at that particular time to make known his hostility towards the properties in which he and the gentlemen who were his guests in the state are interested, and who had under consideration the question of making further investments, bringing capital to Georgia to be used for construction purposes, and consequently supplying employment to hundreds of people who are now out of work.

Mr. Atkinson Talks.

"I am just back from a trip of about two weeks over the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad and other properties in which we are interested," said Mr. Atkinson. "I was accompanied by a party of gentlemen who have made large investments in Georgia and other southern states, and who I hoped would continue to invest in the building of railroads and the development of Georgia's resources. They expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the work we have already done, and with the natural resources of the state.

"It has been difficult—even where it has been possible—to induce the investment of capital in Georgia in any kind of enterprise, and particularly in the construction of railroads during the last year," he continued. "In fact, I believe it is true that the only construction work of any magnitude conducted in Georgia during the past year has been the work of constructing the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad and its allied properties by the gentlemen above referred to and myself and others associated with us.

"This work was undertaken before the agitation against corporate properties began in Georgia. It would not have been possible to have started the enterprise since this hostility began, but this one having been already undertaken, I think it is something to the credit of the gentlemen concerned in it that the work has been carried right straight forward, not stopping on account of apparent antagonism to corporate investments, nor even on account of the panic.

Believe People of Georgia Fair.

"These gentlemen and our other associates and I have faith that the people of Georgia are fair. I have lived among them for over twenty years, and have never lost opportunity to tell investors that they could depend on any investments they might make in Georgia being fairly and justly treated. There are times, of course, when temporarily the people are misled, but in the long run, I know the people of Georgia too well to believe that they would be a party to any unfairness toward investments made in their state. Not only do my associates believe that, in the long run, their property will be justly treated by the public, but they also believe that it is necessary to treat the public fairly, too. To this end, the properties controlled by them have been so conducted as to meet the reasonable desires of the public and furnish the best service reasonably practicable.

"In addition to this, we have voluntarily subjected these properties to the laws of Georgia, the corporations owning them are incorporated under Georgia law, their principal offices located in Georgia cities, they bear distinctive Georgia names, their officers men born or raised in Georgia. We have tried always to act in harmony with the constituted authorities of the state—whoever they might for the time being be or however we ourselves might differ with them. The rulings of the railroad commission reducing our rates have been acquiesced in without law-suit—the tax assessment of the comptroller general submitted to without appeal—the requests of the public authorities complied with.

Unfair and Unfortunate.

"It seems to me to be most unfair that these properties should be made the subject of attacks by politicians and that public prejudice should be attempted to be stirred up against them and the persons interested in them in a political campaign by a person who is not only a candidate for the high office of governor but who actually occupies that position at the present time.

"To have this attack made at the very time that these gentlemen were going over the state with me for the purpose of considering the making of further investments is most unfortunate. It is very hard to convince people that their investments will be protected and that their money will be safe in a state when the governor of the state during their visit to it makes them and their property the subject of attack in a political campaign, just because he thinks such appeals to supposed prejudice against corporations will help his individual political fortunes."

Some of Mr. Atkinson's Work.

During his residence in Atlanta Mr. Atkinson has been instrumental in bringing to the south many millions of dollars of which the greater portion has been spent in Georgia.

In spite of the adverse conditions under which he has labored Mr. Atkinson stated that the work of constructing the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad would be carried to completion and that passenger service will be inaugurated into Atlanta in a short time, and into Birmingham probably about September 1, when the entire system will be in opertion.

Mr. Atkinson organized the Brunswick Steamship Company which began on April 1 of the present year to operate two sailings a week each way between Brunswick and New York, and which supplies to the railroads entering Brunswick facilities with which to serve promptly shippers and merchants of Georgia and the south. He is also the president of that enterprise.

JURY IN WHITE CASE.

Over a Hundred Witnesses in Case at LaGrange.

LaGrange, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—With the court room crowded to overflowing, the case of B. J. White, accused of the murder of W. A. Allison, near Mountville, on the night of February 29, was called a few minutes before 9 o'clock this morning. There are over a hundred witnesses for the state and defense. The whole morning was occupied in making up a jury.

The following is the jury: C. O. Holder, mill man; W. V. Statenen, farmer; J. E. Jones, insurance; R. H. Moore, farmer; R. S. Young, farmer; J. M. Hawkins, traveling salesman; N. A. Johnson, salesman; J. S. Mooty, salesman; T. S. DeLoach, merchant; P. E. Tatum, farmer; M. D. Fowler, protographer; J. C. Brittain, farmer.

WOMAN'S DEAD BODY FOUND.

Negress' Body Was Nude and Face Beaten to Jelly.

Statesboro, Ga., May 13.—Lying half-covered in the water of Fifteen-mile creek, nude, with a pistol or knife wound in her face, near the nose, her face and head beaten almost into a jelly, a 25-pound iron weight around her neck, and her feet wrapped together with wire, an unknown negro woman was found floating near Jones' bridge, a few miles from Metter, a station on the Central railroad, a short distance from this place. The body of the woman was found by a negro man, who was crossing the bridge.

A coroner's inquest was held, but, although a careful study of the situation was made, there was not the slightest clue to be found implicating any one. The finding of the jury was that an unknown negro woman came to her death at the hands of an unknown party or parties, from a pistol or knife wounds.

TARIFF AGREEMENT SCORED.

Hosiery Makers Denounce Roosevelt's Arrangement with Germany.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 13.—Without a dissenting vote the delegates to the annual convention of the National Association of Hosiery Manufacturers, in session here, adopted resolutions condemning the tariff agreement made by President Roosevelt with Germany. The resolutions, among other things, say:

"The agreement is contrary to law; contrary to the policy of protection, injurious to American labor, unfair to the honest importer, and, in effect, is a material and indiscriminate reduction in the tariff, which should be made only after hearings have been granted, and then only by legislative branch of the government."

A copy of resolutions was ordered to be sent to President Roosevelt and to each member of congress.

VOTE IN FULTON WILL BE HEAVY

May Double Facilities at Large Precincts.

REGISTRATION MAY BE 15,000

Subcommittee of the County Democratic Executive Committee Considering Advisability of Having Two Boxes at Four Precincts.

The indications are that there will be a very heavy vote polled in Fulton county in the primary on June 4, probably the largest vote ever polled in the county, and the democrative executive committee is now considering the advisability of having two boxes and a double set of managers and clerks in the four largest wards in the city.

The total registration in this county two years ago, when the state primary occurred, was 12,821. The total up to date is about 12,500, not including negroes.

The registrar gives it as his opinion that the total this year when the books close will be about 15,000, or over 2,000 more than two years ago.

May Be Rush at Polls.

This will mean a large registration, especially in the second, third, fourth and fifth wards in the city, and it seems probable that one box and one set of managers and clerks at these precincts will not be sufficient to accommodate the voters. There is always a rush at the polls early in the morning, when men vote as they are on their way to their places of business, at noon when voters are going to and from dinner, and late in the afternoon when mechanics, mill men and laborers quit work for the day. In the large wards it has been known to be the case that men had to line up and wait for quite a while before they could cast their ballots, and the working people cannot afford to lose this time.

To Double Facilities.

Under these conditions, it is believed that the voting facilities will be doubled at the four large wards.

Secretary Winn, of the subcommittee of the county executive committee, states that this matter is now being considered, and the probability is that two boxes and a double set of managers and clerks will be placed at the second, third, fourth and fifth wards.

Out of a total registration two years ago of 12,821, the total vote cast for governor was 9,572. The percentage this year is expected to be larger, for there are several other warmly contested elections besides that for governor.

The registration books close in this county on May 23, which is a week from next Saturday.

ANSWER MADE TO ALEXANDER

Farmer's Union Organ Replies to Card of Representative.

This week's issue of The Union News, the official organ of the Georgia Farmers' Union, edited by State President R. F. Duckworth, contains an editorial reply to the card published in the Atlanta papers from Representative Hooper Alexander, of DeKalb county. The card from Mr. Alexander was a reply to an editorial in The Union News denying Mr. Alexander's right to claim credit for the passenger fare reduction.

The editorial in this week's issue of The News says:

"Mr. Alexander says, 'The attack on me rather surprised me.' Sure, who would not have been surprised? Certainly, Mr. Alexander, we give you credit for having believed that your card would slide through without any criticism whatever from the Farmers' Union, and then you would have the credit from your own county at least for reducing the passenger fare, but when you find yourself caught, you were surprised. Of course, you were. Surprised? Why, yes. What surprised you, Mr. Alexander? Do you reckon you will have to write another card to tell us why you were surprised. Suppose you do. Honestly, you were surprised at something.

"Was it because you thought that the Farmers' Union had died, or was it because you thought they had gone to sleep?

"Or did you really think you would slip through the card without other notice?

"Something surely caused you to put that in beyond the desire to defend yourself against the Candler-Overstreet bill. Surely, surely, surely, that was not it. We cannot hardly believe that a lawyer of your standing would get himself so mixed.

"Mr. Alexander, a fellow feels kind of dazed when he gets caught in a trap, doesn't he? At least one would come to this conclusion, judging from the actions of some folks the Farmers' Union has caught in traps laid by the persons caught.

"Mr. Alexander does not think that we should have been personal. Why, sure not. Instead of saying it was Hon. Hooper Alexander that made this claim, we should have said it was John Jones, or Bill Smith, or Tom Dusenbury, or some other imaginary fellow that had not made the claim. It might have sounded better for you, Mr. Alexander, but this would not have enabled us to have exposed your attempt to ride into office on the credit of the Farmers' Union."

IN THE COURTS

The grand jury for the May term of the superior court met yesterday morning and as the result of a three-hour session returned twenty-one true bills and three no bills. None of the indictments were important.

O. E. Horton and others have filed an application for a charter for the Atlanta Investment Company, the capital stock of which will be $1,000. The purpose of the company is to collect claims, etc.

DID NOT SIGN SAYS FARLINGER

Atlanta Trustee of League Says Name Was Used Without Authority.

A. W. Farlinger, whose name is attached as a signer to the resolution of the forty trustees of the Anti-Saloon League as favoring the reelection of Governor Smith, is out in a card, in which he says that his name is used without authority, and that he did not sign the resolution.

Mr. Farlinger's card is as follows:

Editor Constitution: I notice in Tuesday evening's Journal, statement under caption, "40 Trustees Signed Resolution," that my name appears as one of the trustees so signed.

I beg to state that I neither signed, nor authorized anyone to sign my name. I believe the mistake was unintentional.

Very respectfully,
A. W. FARLINGER.

Assault on Bryan's Son-in-Law.

Paris, May 13.—The public prosecutor has started an investigation of the assault committed here a few days ago on W. H. Leavitt, a son-in-law of W. J. Bryan, by an Italian named Cana, who had posed for Mr. Leavitt as a model. Cana, who was cut in the head during the fight, will soon be sufficiently recovered to appear in court. Mr. Leavitt's injuries were slight.

Conference of Charities.

Richmond, Va., May 13.—Attendance at today's session of National Conference of Charities and Corrections was small, as many members have left the city. The principal address of the day was made in the criminal section. It was on the discipline and training of women in women's prison and industrial schools for girls, and was made by Miss Sarah L. Montgomery, of the Indiana Girl's school.

SMITH HEARD AT VIDALIA

Made Speech in Grove to Large Audience of Citizens.

Vidalia, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Governor Smith arrived here this morning. He was met at the station by about 1,000 citizens and given an enthusiastic welcome.

A committee of representative citizens went down on the early train and met the governor several miles below here. The farmers of the surrounding country came to town in wagons and buggies to attend the speaking.

His address was along the line of his former addresses over the state. He held his audience deeply interested throughout his entire address.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Johnson's Reception.

The largest social event of yesterday was the reception at which Mrs. Henry S. Johnson entertained, her guests invited at 5 o'clock. Several hundred ladies called and the occasion, in artistic detail and hospitality, was characteristic of all over which Mrs. Johnson and the members of her family preside.

Receiving with Mrs. Johnson were her daughters, Mrs. Calloway, Mrs. Victor Smith, Mrs. Vaughn Nixon, Mrs. Henry S. Johnson, Jr., her sisters, Mrs. T. P. Westmoreland, Mrs William R. Hammond, Mrs. William Rawson and Mrs. Robert F. Shedden, Mrs. W. H. Nixon, Mrs. Clem Harris, Miss Harris, the Misses Rawson, Mrs. E. W. duBose, Mrs. J. G. Oglesby and Mrs. A. W. Calhoun.

Mrs. Johnson received her guests in the drawing room, where the usual attractiveness was added to the bowls and vases of all colored roses. In the loggia adjoining, there were palms and many potted plants, and the dining room presented a charming efect in decorations of daisies.

A luxury of them were artistically arranged on all sides, the table having a double plateau of them, in the clusters of which were bows of yellow satin ribbon. The silver candlesticks had unshaded waxen tapers, and on the buffet and serving table there were vases filled with daisies, candlesticks holding unshaded tapers.

In the library punch was served by Misses Sarah and Elizabeth Rawson and Miss Jennie D. Harris. The field daisies continued as a charming decoration, but fairer and sweeter than all the flowers were the group of little folks, the three grandchildren, Emma and William Nixon, and Henry Johnson, Jr., and little Miss Mary Shedden, who met the guests in the hallway.

Among the ladies calling, Mrs. Don A. Pardee was among the most attractive, wearing an empire princesse gown of pale gray satin, the corsage trimmed in lace.

Bridge Tea.

A charming affair of yesterday was Mrs. Lowry Porter's bridge tea in compliment to Mrs. Percy Smedley Darlington, of Westchester, Pa., the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Taylor.

The attractive reception rooms and porch were prettily decorated with palms and yellow and white roses, and in the dining room the tea table centerpiece was of the yellow roses, bordered with fern. All the color details were in yellow and green, and delicious refreshments were served.

Miss Louise Van Harlingen won the first prize, a piece of framed tapestry, Mrs. Daniel Ruden cut the consolation, cold cream jars, and Mrs. Darlington was presented a green linen parasol and two sliver-topped cold cream jars.

Mrs. Porter was a lovely hostess, wearing a black and white striped chiffon cloth gown, and Mrs. Darlington was gowned in black striped messaline trimmed with white lace and a touch of gold. Mrs. Cross, of Mississippi, received with Mrs. Porter, and she wore a pink lingerie gown.

To Mrs. Freeman.

Mrs. Marshall Eckford's bridge party yesterday afternoon was a delightful affair of eight tables in compliment to Mrs. C. H. Freeman, who is visiting Mrs. Clarence Bloodworth.

Mrs. Eckford's guests included the members of her club and a few other friends, and the prizes, a set of tumblers, a hand-painted mayonnaise bowl, and a veil pin, were won by Mrs. Cage, Mrs. Fiske and Mrs. Simpson.

Afternoon Bridge.

Miss M. A. Phelan gave a pretty bridge party of eight guests yesterday in compliment to Mrs. Hines, of Macon, and Mrs. McFarland, of Aberdeen.

The house was prettily decorated with roses and daishes, and the game was followed by dainty refreshments. Mrs. Andrew Calhoun won the prize, a set of handkerchiefs, and the guests of honor were presented lace jabots.

Al Fresco Party.

Miss Ruth Barry was hostess last night at an al fresco party in compliment to her guest, Miss Nell Pinson, and the occasion was a delightful one.

The moonlight was ideal for entertainment under the trees, and the hospitality of the evening was gracious and enjoyable. Delicious refreshments were served, and music was a feature.

Miss Barry and Miss Pinson wore dainty dingerie gowns, and assisting in entertainment was an attractive group of young women—Misses Alice Wilburn, Rosa Milledge, Laura and Frances Ansley.

Miss Fillmore Wins the Medal.

The Union Congregational church was filled with people who enjoy good music and fine recitations by young people. Mrs. Barbee and her musical children, Mrs. Rowley and the Legioners, led by Miss Lee, kept everybody wide-awake with charming melody. The contestants all were well prepared with their recitations, but as only one could win the medal, the three unprejudiced judges decided in favor of Miss Florence Fillmore.

While the judges were out of the auditorium, Miss McGahee delighted the audience with two selections. She manifests remarkable talent which should be thoroughly cultivated to bring her fame and fortune and enable her to take front rank with the most celebrated recitationists and wield a power for good in the world.

Master William Bowles was second in the contest and will try again until he wins. Medallions with the total abstinence pledge engraved on one side and the well-remembered face of Frances E. Willard on the other were presented to the unsuccessful contestants. There will be another contest very soon.

Council of Jewish Women.

The Council of Jewish Women completed its work for the year 1907-8 when it met on Monday afternoon, May 11, in the temple vestry. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Charles H. Simon, president.

Reports of the president, secretary, treasurer and different committee chairmen prove the fine work accomplished the past year by the club.

To the many generous donations of the year were added others, viz., $25 to Atlanta's Home for Incurables; confirmation flowers to be furnished by the council this year and annually hereafter to the Hebrew orphan confirmants. This precedent was established last year at Mrs. Simon's suggestion and is a very pretty and graceful act from the council.

A frame-work for a Succoth festival will be erected by the council in time for the celebration of that festival by the Sunday school children next fall, and a Biblical picture will be annually presented to the Sabbath school, hereafter. Officers for the year 1908-9 were elected as follows:

Mrs. Charles H. Simon, president; Mrs. Charles Herman, vice president; Mrs. Al Fox, recording secretary; Miss F. Picard, corresponding secretary; Mrs. B. Z. Phillips, treasurer; Mrs. William Bauer, auditor. Board of directors: Mrs. D. Marx, Mrs. A. T. Wise, Mrs. L. Haas, Mrs. S. Metzger, Mrs. A. Heyman. Delegates to Triennial at Cincinnati next fall: Mrs. Charles Simon, Mrs. Julius Sommerfield. Alternates: Mrs. Martha Klein, Mrs. David Marx.

Bridge Luncheon.

One of the prettiest of the season's small entertainments was the bridge luncheon given yesterday by Mrs. Edwin Johnson in compliment to Mrs. Richard Hines, of Macon, the guest of Mrs. Sidney Stubbs.

There were two tables of bridge, and the prize, silk stockings, was won by Mrs. Robert Alston. Mrs. Hines was also presented with silk stockings.

The party of eight were seated for luncheon at a table beautiful in its appointments and decorations. The centerpiece was a large silver basket of Paul Neron roses, and at intervals about the table were small silver vases of the same flowers. The place cards bore the monogram and crest of the hostess in silver.

Mrs. Johnson wore a handsome white lingerie gown, and Mrs. Hines wore a brown chiffon gown and a large brown hat.

To Miss Bates.

Miss Antoinette Blount's bridge party last night was a delightful affair of twenty-eight guests in compliment to Miss Julia Bates, of Baltimore, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. Clay Moore.

The house had an attractive decoration in garden roses, and every detail of the occasion was tasteful and pretty. The prizes were a water color in a gilt frame and a silver miniature frame. A dainty spper was served after the game.

Miss Blount was becomingly gowned in pink radium and lace. Miss Bates wore pink chiffon and princess lace. Mrs. Moore wore a yellow silk gown with gold trimming.

To School Girls.

Miss Emma Benjamin will entertain at afternoon tea on Monday, and Miss Clifford West on Friday of next week in compliment to the senior class of Washington seminary.

New Linenne Suits $5.98
Would Be Good Values at Ten Dollars

The backwardness of the season and other unusual trade conditions put us in possession of 100 smartly stylish Linenne Coat Suits at less than actual cost of materials and making. And we'll pass our bargain on to you in the special sale that begins this morning in our popular second floor.

Without close examination you'd judge these suits to be pure linen and worth in the neighborhood of twenty-five dollars. They are, in fact, made of linenne, a remarkably clever imitation of linen, and their real value is fully double the price at which we shall sell them.

The picture was sketched direct from one of these suits and accurately shows its smartly stylish design. Coat is half-fitting, has elbow length sleeves and is tastefully trimmed with insertion and medallions of Irish cotton lace. Skirt is allover plaited, full-flared at bottom and finished with wide fold.

HARRIMAN LINES PAY DIVIDENDS

Union Pacific Declares 10 Per Cent on Common Stock.

New York, May 13.—The regular dividends of 2 1-2 per cent quarterly on Union Pacific common stock, of 1 1-2 per cent quarterly on Southern Pacific common and of 3 1-2 per cent semi-annual Southern Pacific preferred stock were declared by the directors of those companies today.

Following the meeting of the directors E. H. Harriman was asked about the plans for issuing part of the $100,000,000 in bonds recently voted by the Union Pacific stockholders. He said:

When he was asked about $25,000,000 which he was reported to have said that the company required Mr. Harriman asked:

"What is $25,000,000 to the Union Pacific?"

The time of offering the bonds authorized, he said, will depend largely upon market conditions.

MAKE FIGHT ON FUTURES.

Strong Effort to Be Made in the Louisiana Assembly.

Baton Rouge, La., May 13.—Notice of the fight to be waged against trading in cotton futures was served in both branches of the legislature today.

Senator Marston, of Red River parish, who served the notice in the senate, announced that the Louisiana bills will be modeled after the Georgia laws regulating cotton futures trading. He said that "legitimate trading" in cotton futures will not be prohibited, but pointed out that he considered much of the future trading carried on by the New Orleans cotton exchange as gambling which ought to be prohibited.

Notice of similar legislation was given in the house by Representative Paul M. Potts, president of the Louisiana division of the Southern Cotton Association.

RICE MAY GO TO NEW FIELD

Has Been Elected to Chair of Union Theological Seminary.

Richmond, Va., May 13.—(Special.)—Dr. Theron H. Rice, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of Atlanta, Ga., was yesterday elected by the board of directors of the Union Theological Seminary to the chair of English Bible and pastoral theology in that institution, succeeding Dr. Thomas R. English, who was transferred to the chair of the New Testament language and literature.

Dr. Rice graduated at the Union Theological Seminary sixteen years ago and was the pastor of the Presbyterian church in Alexandria, Va., from his graduation until he accepted the charge in Atlanta.

Since he went in the ministry Dr. Rice has been considered one of the rising men of the Southern Presbyterian church. Although he has held but two charges he has had numerous calls to churches and educational institutions.

ROUGH ON THE EXPERTS.

How Alienists Missed It in a French Case.

Paris, May 13.—Just as the handwriting experts were discredited by the outcome in the Dreyfus' case has a cloud been cast upon the value of expert alienists' evidence by the case of Jeanne Weber, who, on May 9, narrowly escaped lynching at Nancy, where she was arrested for strangling to death a boy 7 years old. The woman was arrested in Paris several months ago, charged with the murder, by strangling, a score of children. At her trial then, and in the face of strong police evidence of her guilt, the doctors were unanimous in asserting that the children had died natural deaths, and that the woman was perfectly sane. In view of Mme. Weber's later arrest at Nancy, Dr. Doyen has published an open letter, in which he insists that medical experts in the future confine themselves to testifying to established facts, instead of giving their opinions.

Four Miners Killed.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 13.—A fall of rock and coal in the Prospect colliery, of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, at Midvale, near here, today killed four mine-workers and injured three others. The dead:

NEW EDUCATIONAL FORCE TO BE STARTED ON FRIDAY

Meeting Will Be Held at Chamber of Commerce and Dr. Matheson Will Set Forth Principles of Industrial Education.

By ISMA DOOLY.

Another factor in the rapidly organizing forces making for that form of education which will bring about more direct and more skillful development of the resources of this section, is the organization of Georgia's Division of the National Association For the Promotion of Industrial Education.

This organization will be permanently effected at a meeting called by Mr. Asa Candler in the chamber of commerce Friday afternoon, when Doctor K. G. Matheson, of the Georgia School of Teohnology, will fully set forth the broad principles and purposes of the national association, and the necessity there is for the public at large to appreciate the real meaning of industrial training not only in its relation to education, in the sense of a more skilful development of the south's resources, but the relation of industrial education to national efficiency.

Though the fact that industrial education is that universally accepted now as the system most beneficial to the masses, there are many who do not appreciate the great movement which is represented in the kind of industrial education to the formation of which the master minds of the century past and this has given, and are giving their most earnest effort.

The meaning of the industrial education, for the establishment of which the national association stands, is one that aims to direct what may be called the very life forces from the time the child enters the kindergarten, on through every stage of his life. Far from being the mere technical training, which fits the individual for one trade or another, it is a form of education that develops the highest skill, and so corelates training with daily life, that the child becomes a part of the machinery of human progress from the moment his training begins.

Each lesson that is learned is applied to the moment, and when the boy leaves the institution it is not to begin work, but to continue a work that had its beginning in his elementary training.

The tremendous amount of thought and energy that has been expended upon the planning out of industrial education has so spiritualized this particular form of training that it would seem that the best of all forms of primary and so-called higher education have been drawn from to complete the system upon the application of which the greater part of our twentieth century civilization depends.

Men who are the highest exponents of this training have organized the National Association, the membership expressing that cooperation of forces represented by professional educators and business men working for the common end of a better trained, more skilful people.

The first convention of the national association was held in Chicago January 23. Dr. Henry S. Pritchett, of the Carnegie Foundation, was the first president, and Dr. K. G. Matheson, of Atlanta, and Hon. Gunby Jordan, of Columbus, were among the first members.

Since January Dr. Matheson has been working to bring the next convention of the national association to Georgia. To do this a Georgia division of the association had to be organized, and for this purpose the meeting is called at the chamber of commerce Friday.

When the significance of the movement is appreciated in the bringing here of the most scholarly and expert men to discuss a form of education upon which the south of the moment depends for her future prosperity, no citizen called to the meeting should fail to respond.

SHALL THE FOURTH OF JULY BE "WET" OR "DRY" EVENT?

Mexico City, May 13.—One of the most unique campaigns ever waged by Americans in a foreign capital is being hotly contested in this city. The issue centers about the manner of celebrating the Fourth of July, a number of Americans being opposed to the serving of liquors at the celebration, which is attended by from twenty-five to thirty thousand people. To settle this question, the council of administration of the Society of the American Colony decided to hold an election, and the polls were opened this morning at a dozen places where Americans congregate.

A "wet" and "dry" ticket has been put in the field, and the voting thus far has been as brisk and exciting as any eve rheld in the United States. The polls will close on next Monday. It is expected that many hundreds of votes will be cast.

Both the pro's and anti's are electioneering in true yankee style.

INSTANT RELIEF FROM CATARRH.

Send for a Trial Sample of This Great Remedy, and Convince Yourself of Its Merit.

When we say that Eclipse Catarrh Cure gives instant relief from that disagreeable, offensive disease from which so many suffer, we are ready to prove this assertion to your entire satisfaction. No matter how long you have been afflicted, no matter how badly stopped up your head may be, the sample which we will send you will give immediate relief, clear up the clogged air passages, throw off the offensive accumulations, and soothe and heal the delicate, irritated membrane.

Eclipse Catarrh Cure is a vegetable preparation of wonderful curative powers. It promptly reaches the remotest air passages, where the disease is located, and effects a permanent cure in even the worst cases.

Mrs. E. A. Bryant, Rome, Ga., Writes:

"I want to tell you how much good your medicine has done for me. Before I used your remedy I suffered so much with Catarrhal deafness I could hardly hear at all, but now I can hear as well as I could before I had Catarrh.

"I am now sixty-eight years old, and have never had anything to do me as much good as your medicine.

Send for Week's Treatment.

We are anxious for every sufferer to try this great remedy and will send for twenty-five cents in stamps a liberal trial treatment and a pipe to all who will send us their name and address. We have hundreds of letters from grateful patients whom we have cured and will send you also our booklet containing these testimonials and full information about the disease. Do not delay, but write today. Address Eclipse Medicine and Manufacturing Company, Atlanta, Ga.

DEAD PERCH IN RESERVOIR.

Peculiar Interruption to Columbus' Supply of Water.

Columbus, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Columbus is drinking Chattahoochee river water tonight because of an interruption of an unusual nature to its customary supply from the hills of Alabama. Dead perch by the hundred floated to the top of the water in the upper reservoir, and the theory of the waterworks company officials is that the water was dynamited secretly during the night by unknown parties who secured the largest fish that came to the surface and left the smaller perch. The water supply from the reservoirs was cut off and the dead fish are being removed.

SPEECHES AT CLARKSTON

Were Made by Messrs. Hooper Alexander and Murphy Candler.

Clarkston, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Hon. Hooper Alexander and Hon. Murphy Candler, candidates for the legislature, spoke at Clarkston on Tuesday night on behalf of their campaign.

Mr. Alexander spoke first, giving a synopsis of his record in the legislature. He dwelt at length upon the bill passed providing for quarterly payments of pensions to confederate soldiers and gave as his reason for supporting the same the inadequacy of the state funds. He also gave considerable time to a discussion of the present system of paying common school teachers.

Mr. Candler spoke for about an hour, giving an outline of the bills passed by the last session of the general assembly, five of which, out of a total of twenty-four laws enacted, were introduced by representatives of DeKalb county. Mr. Candler discussed at length the question of education in the rural districts.

BRENAU COMMENCEMENT.

It Will Probably Be the Best in Its History.

Gainesville, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Brenau will probably have the best commencement in its history, and when we look back for a period of twenty years and see what splendid exercises Brenau has always had, this is saying a great deal. There are young women here now from twenty-six states, Cuba and England, who are pursuing the work of specialists in several lines.

During the past year, Brenau has had an attendance of 387 students, and with such a number it is not surprising that the finest entertainments may be produced on the stage of the college.

Saturday, May 16, 8 p. m.—Alumnae banquet.

Monday, May 18, 4:30 p. m.—Class day exercises.

Monday, May 18, 8:30 p. m.—Play by school of oratory.

Tuesday, May 19, 10:30 a. m.—Graduating exercises; address by Hon. Robert Seeds, Birmingham, Pa.

Tuesday, 4:30 p. m.—Art exhibit.

Tuesday, May 19, 8:30 p. m.—Annual grand concert, under direction of Mr. Otto W. G. Pfefferkorn.

Penny Postage for United States.

London, May 13.—Addressing a trade conference in London tonight, John Henniker Heaton, member of parliament, "the father of the imperial penny postage," in advocating a penny telegraphic rate between Great Britain and the continent of Europe, said that it was common knowledge that penny postage with the United States would shortly be adopted.

CHILDREN ARE NUISANCES

But it is not always the child's fault if it is a nuisance.

Sometimes its parents may be responsible because they are irresponsible as parents.

Then, the child may be out of things to do or stories to read, or be a little peevish.

More often it is the parent's failure to help the child amuse or entertain itself.

"Uncle Remus and the Children" is the new department in Joel Chandler Harris' magazine. Last month more than three hundred children made themselves and Uncle Remus happy by writing him letters.

Just read the youngster the story that leads the children's department in the May issue of Uncle Remus's—The Home Magazine. It is about Uncle Ladder, Teenchy-Tiny Duck and some of the creeturs.

You'll enjoy the child's delight, and it will cost you only ten cents. The May issue is on the newsstands.

MUCH INTEREST IN CONVENTION

For First Time in Many Years Senator Tillman Will Not Attend.

Columbia, S. C., May 13.—(Special.)—For the first time in years Senator B. R. Tillman will not attend the democratic state convention, which meets here on May 20, the senator now being en route to Europe, sailing from Boston May 16.

Senator Tillman, who is the democratic national committeeman from this state, has given General Willie Jones, state chairman, a proxy to represent him in the national body until July 7, at which time the senator's term expires.

It is expected that the forthcoming state convention will be an interesting one. A majority of the districts have already been instructed by the county conventions to vote for delegates to Denver instructed for William J. Bryan. While some counties failed to instruct their delegates, it is known that a large number in each of the counties not instructed are in favor of the Nebraskan, so the matter of an instructed delegation seems to be a foregone conclusion.

Hon. Mendel L. Smith, of Camden, former speaker of the house of representatives, will very probably be chosen president of the convention, no other name having yet been mentioned in this connection.

The election of delegates-at-large will be an interesting feature of the convention. For those offices the names most prominently mentioned are Captain William E. Gonzales, editor of The State, who led the fight for an instructed delegation; General Willie Jones, the state chairman; Senator Frank B. Gary, H. N. Watkins, of Anderson, and John P. Grace, of Charleston.

NEGRO SHOT TO DEATH.

Victim of Posse Attempted to Assault Negro Girl.

Huntington, W. Va., May 13.—John Gibson, a negro, was killed by a posse following an attempt to assault a negro child. The child's mother came to the girl's rescue and Gibson beat her so severely with a black-jack that she cannot recover. Gibson was arrested but broke away from the officer and escaped to the hills. He was later overtaken by a posse and when he showed fight he was shot to death.

ALL DUCK MILLS WILL BE CLOSED

Upward of 25,000 Operatives Will Be Affected by Order.

St. Louis, Mo., May 13.—Following a conference between settling agents and the manufacturers, members of the association of manufacturers of single-filled duck met here and decided to close all cotton mills making this grade in the United States. The action was taken, it is said, because of recent business depressions and inability to sell the product above the cost of manufacture.

Memersb of the association say that not a wheel will turn after a week or two in any of the large mills of the south. Upward of 25,000 operatives will be thrown out of employment until October, when the mills will probably be reopened.

The mills are principally in the southern states of Texas, Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Kansas and other states were represented at the meeting.

AFTER ALLEGED TIGERS.

Eighteen Warrants Secured by Sheriff of Russell County, Ala.

Columbus, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—The blind tiger is getting a black eye on the Alabama as well as the Georgia side of the Chattahoochee river at this point, for following indictments returned by the Muscogee county grand jury yesterday charging various Columbus citizens with violating the Georgia prohibition law, eighteen warrants were served all Girard, Ala., today by Sheriff Daniel, of Russell county, charging seven white men of that city with violating the prohibition statute of that state.

The serving of the warrants this afternoon and the rumor that the sheriff still has papers sticking from every pocket, to be served during the next day or two, has created a very lively sensation in Girard. Following were the persons arrested, all of whom gave $400 bond in each case: Charles Phelps, six cases; W. J. Newman, three cases; Seab Jones, two cases; Jimmie Kinnett, three cases; Dowd Fullerton, one case; Bub Noble, two cases; Charles Windham, one case. Several of the defendants are ex-saloon proprietors and clerks. The Muscogee grand jury returned twenty-two bills today, but the names of the persons indicted have not yet been made public.

over the country, but as one drummer says, it is the only spirit ever known to be free from that intoxicating effect.

"I am glad to hear that," says the Gopher. "It is better to bilk a man with his eyes open than to take his purse while sleeping. But we don't do that; we have a habit of making them all come in line. The next thing we'll do is to tell you—

"That the temperature has reached the eighties."

MRS. SHERIDAN TO SING IN NEW YORK ON FRIDAY

Mrs. Charles O. Sheridan, well known Atlanta musician, will appear at the Wanamaker auditorium in New York on Friday of this week. A telegram to this effect was received here today. Mrs. Sheridan has given a great many concerts in this city and is prominently connected with the new conservatory of music which will be opened here this fall. She plans to sail for Europe on Saturday, and there will resume her studies with Jean de Reszke.

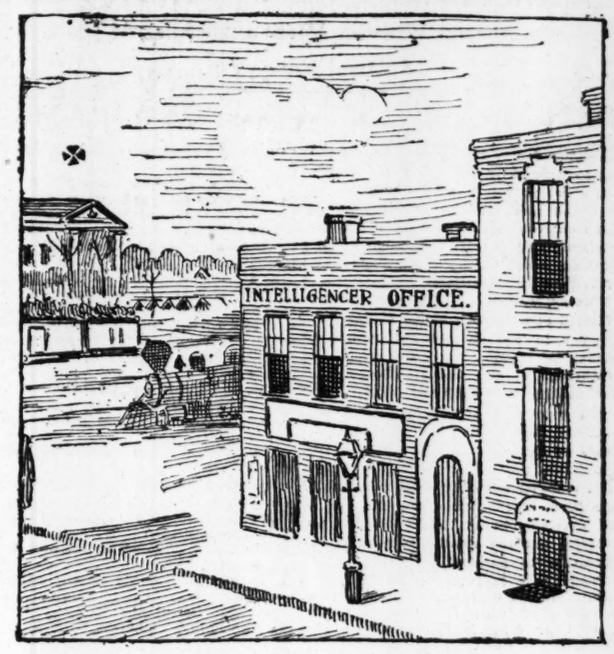

INSTRUCTED FOR TAFT.

Louisiana Republican Conventions Issue Instructions for Taft.

Baton Rouge, La., May 13.—The sixth district republican convention met here today and elected two delegates and two alternates, who were instructed for Secretary Taft. The delegates were: W. J. Behan, of Irberville parish, and G. J. Reilly, of East Feliciana parish; alternates, W. R. Frazier, of St. Tammany parish, and H. D. Bickham, of Washington parish. Resolutions indorsing the administration of President Roosevelt were adopted.

Lake Charles, La., May 13.—At the seventh district republican convention here last night the delegates were instructed for W. H. Taft for president. Delegates, W. B. Gobbert, of Calcasieu parish, and Dr. A. N. Boagni, of St. Landry parish; alternates, W. A. Cornish, of Calcasieu parish, and W. P. Fowler, of Rapides parish.

U. S. TROOPS USED TEMPLE; MASONS HAVE FILED CLAIM

ATLANTA'S FIRST MASONIC TEMPLE.

The Star indicates the building which was used by General Sherman's troops during the occupation—The drawing is a reproduction of a war time photograph.

Congressman Leonidas F. Livingston, of the fifth district, has introduced in congress house resolution No. 21,675, a copy of which has been received in Atlanta, calling upon the secretary of the treasury to pay to the Masonic Hall Company, of Atlanta, $475 in full compensation for the use of the Masonic hall of Atlanta by the federal troops during the years 1865 and 1866.

The Masonic hall trustees, their successors in office, of which Forrest Adair, imperial potentate of Yaarab temple of the Mystic Shrine, is chairman, have met and framed a resolution of thanks in return to Congressman Livingston for this act.

On April 5, 1860, when Atlanta was a town and the present day grandeur in building was undreamed and unheard of, N. L. Angier, father of the former United States district attorney, decided to erect a one-story building on Decatur road, now Decatur street, on the site now occupied by the Star theater.

The Masonic fraternity in the city, then numbering a very few, were desirous of having a "temple" and went to this enterprising builder and asked permission to erect a second story upon his one-story building to be used as a Masonic temple.

The Upper Story Deed.

He agreed to it and drew up an instrument similar to this to bind the agreement:

Whereas, I N. L. Angier, am about to erect a one-story brick building on Decatur road, and

Whereas, There will never be any need for buildings over one-story in height in this place, and

Whereas, The Masons of the city are anxious to add a story to this building to be used as a Masonic hall; therefore

Be it known to all men present that I hereby covenant and agree to transfer to this Masonic company or their assigns that space from the top of my one story to the vaulted dome of heaven for the Masonic purposes which they may desire to use it.

This was properly signed and attested and placed on record.

The Masons of Atlanta built up the side walls, put down the floor and the owner capped it all with the roof he had intended for the first story and the biluding stood complete, the first Masonic temple in this city.

In 1864 when General Sherman made his flying trip through this section of the country, forming a basis for that song, "Marching Through Georgia," he decided to change some of the architecture of the city and hit upon fire as the quickest means of effacement. Accordingly, a corporal and his guard started off down Decatur street, marking the path with bonfires.

Passing the Masonic hall the corporal, who was a master Mason, saw in the eaves of the "skyscraper" a square and compass, the insignia of the Masonic order.

He at once threw a guard about the building, ordered that it not be burned, and proceeded on his light-hearted way.

The corporal reported to his captain, who was also a Mason, what he had done, and was commended for his action. Deciding some other "follow-up" company might destroy it a provost guard was left with the building and strict orders were given that it be not destroyed.

Used Building as Headquarters.

Regimental officers coming on later and ascertaining that the building was marked for safety, decided to take up headquarters in it.

At the same time St. Philip's church, across the road, now known as Washington street, was desecrated by being used as a stable for horses. Several years ago that church filed its claims for damages and rental with the government.

There were a number of old Masons living who knew the history of the old Masonic hall and these made affidavits to the facts set out, and the usage of the hall by the federal government during the years mentioned, and, accordingly, a claim was filed for $475.

Through some inadvertency the claim was placed in the wrong envelope and filed in the wrong pigeonhole. On Monday, May 4, Colonel Livingston made the discovery and introduced the resolution the same day. It has been referred to the committee on war claims, and the appropriation will probably come through the appropriation bills this year, which is to be passed in a few days.

Telegram That His Son Had Died of Heart Failure Causes Death of Mr. Paulette.

Swainsboro, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—J. H. Paulette, a prominent and highly respected farmer of this county, died Monday under peculiarly sad circumstances. Mr. Paulette was on Sunday in his usual health, but was taken suddenly and violently ill Sunday night after receiving a telegram from southwest Georgia which contained the sad information that his son, Clifton Paulette, had died suddenly of heart failure. The old gentleman grew rapidly worse and on Monday morning, after an illness of not more than twenty-four hours, passed away.

The remains of the younger Mr. Paulette will be brought here and interred by the side of his father.

NEW ACTUARY IS NAMED.

Comptroller Wright Names One for Mutual Life Insurance Company.

Comptroller General W. A. Wright yesterday designated H. W. Buttolph, an insurance actuary, of Indianapolis, Ind., to make a reexamination of the affairs of the State Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Rome, recently examined by Actuary H. C. Wolf, of New York, or under his direction.

The reexamination is to be made as the result of some difference between Actuary Wolf and the officials of the company, dispute having arisen as the result of Mr. Wolf's criticism of certain methods employed.

Mr. Buttolph and Mr. Wolf's representatives will go over the company's books and management together, beginning their work next Tuesday.

U. D. C. OF ALABAMA HOLD ANNUAL CONVENTION

Birmingham, Ala., May 13.—The twelfth annual state convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy began here this morning in the city hall with a large attendance, Mrs. Charles G. Brown, Birmingham, state president, presiding.

Rev. L. S. Handley opened the meeting with prayer. Alderman John C. Forney, Colonel A. C. Oxford, of Camp Hardee veterans, and C. P. Jones, Sons of Veterans, extended welcome and Miss Mary Kirkpatrick, of Montgomery, made the response. Mrs. Brown submitted her report making a number of recommendations, among others that the daughters should respond to the call for funds with which to erect a monument in Arlington cemetery in memory of the confederate soldiers. The convention will continue through Friday. A number of social events are on the calender for the convention.

Swainsboro Smith Club.

Swainsboro, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—On Monday night, pursuant to a call issued last week, a large Hoke Smith Club was organized with an enrollment of 828 members.

This meeting was called to order by George Rentz. Judge Frank Mitchell was made temporary chairman, while John R. Flanders was elected president of the club.

Speeches, which were well listened to and frequently applauded, were made by Colonel Bradley, Judge Mitchell, Captain Clifford Thompson and George Rentz.

S.S.S. HEALS OLD SORES

The deep, underlying cause of every old sore is a bad condition of the blood. This vital fluid has become infected with some germ or poison which prevents the place from healing. This infection may be the result of an inactive, sluggish condition of the system leaving the refuse matter in the body to be absorbed into the circulation instead of throwing it off through the usual channels of nature. Another cause is the weakening or polluting of this life-stream from hereditary taints, or from the effects of a long spell of sickness, leaving disease germs in the system. When the blood is in this condition a sore cannot heal because the impurities with which the circulation is filled are being constantly discharged into the place to irritate and inflame the tissues and further disease the surrounding flesh. The only treatment that can do any good is one that removes the cause, and for this purpose nothing equals S. S. S. It begins at the fountain head of the trouble and drives out all germs, impurities and poisons, and then the place, being supplied with rich, pure blood, heals naturally and permanently. Local applications assist in cleansing the place, but a cure can only be affected through a purification of the blood. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free. BUT TWO HITS OFF CASTLETON

Mormon Southpaw Had Travelers on the Chutes.

Moran Spoiled Little Rock's Only Chance to Count by Perfect Throw and He Starred at Bat Also—Rain Made Going Slow.

New Orleans 6, Montgomery 0.
Mobile 3, Birmingham 3—Twelve innings.
Memphis-Nashville—Rain.

WHERE THEY PLAY TODAY.

Atlanta in Little Rock.
Montgomery in New Orleans.
Nashville in Memphis.

Little Rock, Ark., May 13.—(Special.)—The crafty noodle of Bill Smith worked wonders in today's game. Roy Castleton, sent ahead of the team from Nashville, rested comfortably Tuesday, and watched Little Rock battle with Memphis. New players unknown to the Champs of last season were studied carefully by the Mormon wizard, and yesterday, by tipping the players off to the movements of local abtters, and pitching skilfully throughout nine muddy rounds, Castleton and eight other Atlanta athletes shut the Travelers out. Score: 2 to 0.

If the day before was bad because of weather the time allotted for the first clash of the season between eastern and western clubs of the circuit reached the superlative condition of worse. Heavy rains of the night preceding soaked through the crust at West End park, and made the going bad, even for webfooted and water-wagon stars of the diamond. The ball was slippery and spitters served by Castleton were not necessarrily wetted by the Mormon's saliva.

He was forced to work hard by Umpire Brown in the matter of placing strikes. Roy gave five bases on balls, but scattered them in single rounds, and allowed two men on the bases only on two occasions. He tempered bases on balls with strikeouts galore, and set a record for pitchers to hurl at on local grounds during the present season by fanning ten batters.

Finn's One Chance.

Atlanta started scoring right off the reel. Ginger Winters smeared to left for a single; Captain Otto Jordan dumped a sacrifice in the mud. Moran rapped to left for two bags, scoring Winters, who ploughed up third base like Reck going against a rough furrow. That was all doing in the scoring line until the eight innings, although visiting bats plucked hits steadily.

The gloomy aspect of Arkansas storm clouds, made famous by reason of recent fast and lightning plays, did little to encourage the gathering of players and assortment of fans which included, besides the regulars, a choice bundle of druggists, who are in convention here, and a band, both claimed by "Count" Castro as his friends, by reason of his close association with the undertaking business during off baseball months. Players were forced to the outskirts of the diamond because of the heavy going on naked spots of the field, and runners, when they reached base, kept upon the green in hopes of maintaining a foothold.

Roy's Great Work.

Barring the fact that Castleton fortified himself with a clever spitter, aided by wetness, and that rain stopped the game in the sixth inning, when local excuses for the lost contest might have been thicker than the water, the game was a bit interesting. Castleton's work wasn't anything to be sneezed at. Hhe pitched plumb against the reveries of Mr. Shakespeare, and his thought of nothing being in the name, the Utah southpaw had local batters up Salt Lake all the way through, and the only chance of running was dissipated when rain failed to stop the game before five innings were completed.

The unnecessary Atlanta run developed in the eighth. Castro was thrown at by Stark; Castleton walked, and Winters singled to right. Jordan followed with a single to left field, filling the bases, when Becker pulled a hard one to right. It went foul by a few inches, and would have been going yet had it been fair. Hart walked him, and forced in the run. Horan's foozle in front of the plate, and Woods' quick stunt of touching home and firing to first, completing a double play, ended the chance of run-getting.

Little Rock came very close in the ninth, when, after Wells was hit, Starke sloughed one down first base line, which allowed him two bases, but Umpire Brown adjudged it had fallen foul of the chalk line. Starke walked, but Moran, by slipping forward fast, reached out and caught Hess' low drive, and ended the game.

PITCHER HICKEY DEBUTS WITH A GOOD REPUTATION

Cy Hickey, the new pitcher who is coming for a trial with Atlanta, has done some good work in the Texas and Gulf Coast League and may be a phenom—time will tell.

Hickey has performed well on the diamond on every occasion. He served two seasons in the Texas League, and last year was with the Lafayettes in the Gulf Coast League, where he made a good record. This year he was offered a contract as manager, but declined, preferring to play ball with the semi-professionals at home. So far this season his performances have been good. Only last Sunday he pitched against Donaldsonville for Napoleonville. He lost the game by the score of 4 to 3, the defeat being due to errors by his teammates. Even at this he only gave Donaldsonville three hits and struck out sixteen men.

Hickey is a young man, aged 26 years, born and reared in the lots of the third district. He is a popular member of the Ushers, and has been the head of that organization's athletic committee for years. He is also popular with the Phoenix Athletic Club members. He is also a member and at the present time captain of one of its indoor baseball teams.

Douglasville Was Successful.

Douglasville, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—Douglasville defeated the Seventeenth regiment's star baseball team here yesterday afternoon by the score of 8 to 7.

Uncle Sam's boys were en route to Waco for rifle practice and as they were stopping over here the game was arranged.

The game was undecided until the ninth inning. The soldiers forged ahead in the seventh, but Griggs' home run and Enterkin's three-bagger in the ninth ended the thing.

Batteries: For Douglasville, Selman, Griggs and Enterkin; for Seventeenth regiment, Tuttle and Brown.

METROPOLITAN TO JACK ATKIN

Restigouche Was Second and Don Creole, Rank Outsider, Was Third—McCarter, the Hot Favorite, Lagged Behind.

New York, May 13.—In the presence of such a throng as only a fine day and the real opening of the local racing season in beautiful Belmont Park could bring forth, Jack Atkin, carrying top weight, won the rich Metropolitan handicap this afternoon.

Don Creole's performance was the feature of the race. Starting in last position and on the far outside, he fought against the hardest sort of luck, gaining hardly an inch until the last eighth of a mile was in sight. Then he shot forward like a bolt and came down the stretch at a pace which brought the great crowd to its feet with roars of encouraging applause. At every jump he appeared to gain a new position and at the finish he lacked a scant half a length of shutting Restigouche out of second honors.

Society Out Strong.

Society flocked in thousands to witness the running of the big handicap. The day was nearly perfect and the course was in splendid condtion and extremely fast.

Fully 35,000 persons witnessed the running of the big event. The race was an even mile. When the barrier was sprung, Superman started away in the lead, with McCarter, Jack Atkin and King Cobalt pressing close behind. The remainder of the field was well bunched, with Don Creole and Bill Book bringing up the rear. Before the quarter was reached Jack Atkin had wrested the lead from Superman, King Cobalt had forged ahead to second and was pressing closely for first honors. Restigouche was back a length and the others were trailing, with Don Creole still bringing up the rear of the procession.

From that point to the finish it was a heart-breaking race. Time and again Jack Atkin was challenged, but every time he responded to the call for greater effort and at the three-quarters he had lengthened his advantage until three clean lengths separated him from Restigouche, following at his heels. McCarter, heralded as the winner, and carrying the hopes of thousands, had been falling steadily back and at the three-quarters he was in last position, with never a hope of his even getting within the money. Superman, too, had dropped back until he was well in the rear.

Don Creole Sprints.

In the meantime, Don Creole had sprinted out of the bunch, passing horse after horse until only five lengths and two horses were between him and the prize. As they swung into the stretch the pace quickened.

Restigouche began slowly but surely to cut down Jack Atkin's narrow lead, and Don Creole as steadily drew ahead. As they neared the grand stand thousands rose, and cheer after cheer went up.

The pace of the three leaders was a hot one, but Spooner, in fourth position, was pressing them hard. These four fought out as game a finish as could be wished, but when the flag fell Jack Atkin still retained the lead by an ample margin. Restigouche was tired, but well earned his place directly behind the leader, and Don Creole, by his performance, proved himself a dangerous horse in any class in a hard race. Spooner had clung well up to the leaders, but behind him there was a break and the others were stretched out over a space of fully twenty lengths.

Summaries.

FIRST RACE—Selling, 7 furlongs: Bonnie Alan, 111 (Musgrave), 6 to 1, won; imitator, 106 (E. Dugan), 8 to 1, second; Dial Plate, Black Lady, 40 to 1, third. Time, 1:28 4-5. Montauk, Nick Stoner, Troublesome, Almadine, Hard Pan, Slumberless and Torenia ran.

B. SMITH CANS AL CUMMINGS

Little Rock, May 13.—(Special.)—Pitcher Al Cummings has been sold by Manager Smith of the Atlanta baseball club, to Winston-Salem, N. C., now managed by Nick Carter, former outfielder of the Memphis club.

Waivers have been asked on Pitcher William Sorrell, of the Nashville club, and no claimants have been found.

LOUISVILLE.

Louisville, Ky., May 13.—Bright weather and a fast track brought a big crowd to Churchill Downs today, though the card gave little promise. Pinkola won the feature race at a mile, running the distance in 1:39 2-5, which broke the track record by one-fifth of a second. In this race, Bottles, which finished third, was disqualified for fouling, and Balbus was placed third. Percy Green won the steeplechase handicap, and those who wagered on his chances received $96.60 for each $5 invested and those who bet $5 on him for place received $225.40 each. It was the big surprise of the meeting to date.

FIRST RACE—Four furlongs: Icaria, 110 (Troxler), straight 68.90, place 25.70, show 12.30, won; Malecon, 110 (Martin), place 14.70, show 10.30, second; Miss Crittenden, 110 (Fogarty), show 41.20, third. Time, 48. Fair Messenger, Acquia, Tapioca, Elysium, My Lady Frances, Willow Plume, Manna, Cousin Mary, Miranda Miller, Bell signal ran.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs: Apache, 113 (Skirvin), straight 26.80, place 13.00, show 11.80, won; Bill Herron, 105 (Lee), place 34.90, show 18.20, second; Huck, 104 (Franklin), show 17.00, third. Time, 1:13 3-5. Financier, Florida Goen, Dandy Dancer, Tamar, Merifield, Annoyance, E. T. Shipp, Judge Dundon, Gowanga, Arrowswift ran.

THIRD RACE—Purse, 1 mile: Pinkola, 94 (Edmonston), 10.50 straight, 7.30 place, 5.80 show, won; Lotus Eater, 117 (Lee), 7.30 place, 5.70 show, second; Balbus, 106 (Martin), 5.90 show, third. Time, 1:39 2-5. Bottles finished third, but was disqualified for fouling.

FOURTH RACE—Free steeplechase handicap, short course: Percy Green, 135 (Garic), 686.60 straight, 225.40 place, 86.50 show, won; Gault, 135 (Kohler), 19.60 place, 7.00 show, second; Charfield, 134 (Pierce), 7.80 show, third. Time, 3:51. Impertinence, Coal Black Lady, Class Leader, Judith McBride, Bell the Cat, Berten ran.

FIFTH RACE—Two-year-olds, colts, 4½ furlongs: Cassowary, 105 (Warren), 17.80 straight, 7.30 place, 7.00 show, won; Romp, 99 (Franklin), 7.10 place, 7.00 show, second; Silverton, 103 (Pickens), 7.80 show, third. Time, 54 1-5. Jack Patton, Hominetrical, Jolly, Teddy Bear ran.

SIXTH RACE—One mile and three-sixteenths: Water Cooler, 97 (Hufnagel), 68.40 straight, 29.20 place, 11.20 show, won; Tivolini, 105 (Powers), 15.70 place, 9.00 show, second; Synchronized, 99 (Martin), 8.60 show, third. Time, 2:00 1-5. Nazimova, Ismailian and Ed Kane ran.

Georgian Wins Tennis Honors.

Carter and Middlebrooks, of the University of Georgia, won the doubles championship in the Southern Intercollegiat Tennis Tourney yesterday, by defeating Poteat and Earnshaw, of Wake Forest, in the finals, 6-1; 3-6; 6-4; 3-6; 13-11.

Carter, of Georgia, won the singles title. He defeated Poteat, of Wake Forest, in a close match, which required four sets. The Wake Forest entries won the championship last year, and their defeat came as a surprise. Both were strong, and gave the new champions the hardest fight seen on local courts.

In the singles semi-finals yesterday morning Poteat, of Wake Forest, defeated Connally, of Tech, 6-3; 6-0, and Carter, of Georgia, defeated Earbshaw, of Wake Forest(6-0; 6-1.

The doubles championship match was started at 10 o'clock in the morning, and so wavering was the play from one to the other that the finish was not reached until 2 o'clock in the afternoon, five fierce sets being required to pull it off.

GEORGIA WINS IN SLOW WALK

Athens, Ga., May 13.—(Special.)—16 to 0 was the score in the Georgia Central game this afternoon with the goose-egg on the Central side.

For the last thirty-six innings played by Georgia, the visitors have been blanked and in eighteen of those innings, Redfearn has been on the slab for Georgia.

Redfearn struck out sixteen men this afternoon and allowed but two hits, one of them a scratch. For a long time it looked like he would secure a no-hit game. Georgia played almost an errorless game.

All the Georgians wielded the willow with effect, hammering the two Central pitchers for sixteen hits. Not a single Georgia player struck out. Central played a game full of errors and on the paths the Georgia team pilfered 12 bases.

Summary: Three-base hits, Graves. Two-base hits, Oglesby. Struck out, by Redfearn, 16. Bases on balls, off Lynn 1, off Webber 2. Left on bases, Georgia 6, Central 4. Hit by pitcher, by Redfearn 3, by Webber 1. Umpire, Beusse.

EMORY WAS KNOCKED OUT OF ATHLETICS THIS YEAR

Intercollegiate athletics are prohibited by the trustees of Emory college and in order to get games with outside teams the students form a club that plays several games after the close of the year in June. This season the manager of this team asked Tech for a game after the regular college session was over, and while Tech would have liked to meet the Oxford people, Athletic Director Randle had to turn down the proposition, for the reason that the Tech faculty allows the team to play an allotted number of games and all of these are disposed of in the regular schedule.

There are some good athletes in the student body of Emory and it is a pity that the contest could not be arranged. The Emory team wanted the game to take place in Atlanta, and that would have put on the field here a Georgia college baseball team not yet seen on a local diamond.

As Emory is not a member of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association she cannot enter the big track meet that will take place Friday and Saturday of next week.

The trustees have given permission for a track team to meet other college teams, but Emory was put out of it this year. It was planned to hold a meet on the Emory athletic field, but this was called off, it is understood, because the faculty would not sanction the event.

So Emory is still doing the best she can with the interclass events, which, although not holding the interest of intercollegiate games, serve to give the students healthy exercise and thus carry out a portion of the object of athletics.

GEORGETOWN REPLY DUE.

Harold Hirsch, who is in charge of the arrangements for the Georgia-Georgetown game at Ponce de Leon next week, heard nothing from the Georgetown management yesterday, but is expecting a reply at any time.

The Georgetown management is considering the proposition and it is thought they will decide to bring the team to Atlanta.

High School Athletes Will Hold Field Day Friday.

A thousand tickets have been issued and a large crowd is expected to be out at Piedmont park Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock to see the annual field day of the Boys' High school take place.

W. F. Dykes, principal, will be in charge, and is to be assisted by a committee appointed from the faculty. T. R. Weems, physical director of the Young Men's Christian Association, will be referee. All the entries have been filled, and unusual interest will be manifested.

BLOW MAY KILL FARMER.

The "Kid" Unconscious as Result of Knockout by Morgan.

Peoria, Ill., May 13.—Jack Morgan, of Indianapolis, knocked out the original "Kid" Farmer in the tenth round of a fight here last night. The first six rounds were slow, but the last four were furious, though Morgan clearly outclassed his man.

Farmer did not recover promptly and after half an hour's work by three physicians he was removed to a hospital where he lies in a semi-conscious condition. Examination showed the man to be suffering from concussion of the brain with slight chances of recovery.

Real Estate and Renting,
325 Empire Building, Bell Phone 2895.

$2,750 WILL BUY the prettiest vacant lot in Decatur, on best street in the town; covered with beautiful shade; 200 by 600 feet to another street. Will make four nice lots, but ought not to be cut. It is the very place for a fine home. See us about this at once.

$4,750 WILL BUY the best farm we know of; 6 miles from city and 1 mile from Decatur; contains 88 acres; is well improved; about 50 acres in high state of cultivation, balance in timber; has branch and springs; good orchards, good barn and outbuildings. Absolutely no waste land and is almost entirely free from stone, such as would obstruct cultivation. This is the best bargain on our list, and we have a number of them. Don't wait. Let us show you this now.

DO YOU WISH a fine suburban home? We have it just listed. In one of the very best sections about the city, with the very best car service, we have 10 acres of land which lies almost perfect. Not one foot but that can be used. A large grove of magnificent oaks in front and about the dwelling. In fact, the lot is all that any one could desire. The dwelling is not new, but has recently been overhauled; and is now as good as new; in fact, is better than a great many new houses now on the market. Has nine large rooms, with wide halls; fine water, garden, fruits, etc. Dwelling is on one side of lot, which leaves another large, beautiful lot on front if desired. We can sell all of this property or will sell house and half of land or less if desired. This is a rare opportunity to get a fine home. See us at once and will make price and terms.

I HAVE SOME pretty, level lots with east fronts in Bonnie Brae, one block of Stewart avenue car line; good community; convenient to Lee street public school and West End churches, on which I can build a house to suit you and sell you on very easy terms. A neat, stylish 4-room cottage with plenty of porch room on one of these beautiful lots for somewhere around $1,500 to $1,600 on very easy terms, is the best proposition I know of, if you want a good, comfortable home in a good section.

EXCHANGE.
FORTY ACRES fronting on Marietta car line with spring and branch and small house to exchange for small home in the city or on the Decatur or East Point car lines. This land I can put in at about one-half what the adjoining land is selling for. It can be cut up into 5-acre lots and you can double your money on it.

ALSO 14 acres in the edge of Decatur, fronting a main road; close to car line; for $150 per acre. Will exchange for a small home in Atlanta or suburbs. This land lies well and is first-class soil. No better place for a truck farm or subdivision.

JULY'S STRENGTH MARKET FEATURE

At One Time During Afternoon, July Sold at 9.90—New Crop Months Partially Responded to the Advance.

New York, May 13.—The sensational strength of July contracts was the feature in today's cotton market, and while the closing tone was easy, last prices were 15 to 33 points net higher. Sales for the day were estimated at 350,000 bales.

The market opened steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 7 points in response to firm cables and big English spot sales. There was some selling of July at first, probably profit-taking by outside longs, and prices eased off from the opening figures, July selling down to 9.40, or 3 points net lower. At this level there was aggressive bull support, and during the later session July showed great nervousness, advancing sharply on comparatively small buying orders in the absence of offerings. At one time during the afternoon it sold at 9.90, 47 points net higher, 170 points above the recent new record, and 74 points above October contracts at the same time. New crop months partially responded to the upward movement, and at one time active positions were 25 to 26 points net higher. The close was off from the best under realizing, with July quoted at 9.76, and October at 9.06. The weather map made a favorable showing, but detailed reports showed rather heavy precipitation in some central and western sections. Some Wall street people were active buyers of July here early, but seemed to be realizing in the last hour.

Receipts at the ports today 7,489 bales, against 7,308 last week and 10,300 last year. For the week 55,000 bales, against 59,153 last week, and 59,994 last year.

Spot closed quiet at 23 points advance; middling uplands 11.30; middling gulf 11.55; sales none. Futures opened steady and closed easy.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, May 13.—Cotton, spots steady; sales 2,350 bales. Low ordinary 6 7-16c, nominal; ordinary 7¼; good ordinary 8 11-16; low middling 9 13-15; middling 10⅞; good middling 11⅛; middling fair 11⅞; fair 12½, nominal; receipts 3,764; stock 144,205. Futures opened steady 2 to 6 points above the close yesterday, as a result of the renewal of the large demand for spots at Liverpool. Reports of bad weather in various portions of the belt aided in the advance and a fairly good demand brought about a still further tendency on the part of the future market to seek higher levels. At the close, which was steady, the active months were 12 to 18 points above the close yesterday.

Liverpool Cotton.

Liverpool, May 13.—Close: Cotton, good business done; prices 1 point lower; American middling fair 6.49; good middling 6.13; middling 5.83; low middling 5.47; good ordinary 4.97; ordinary 4.57. The sales of the day were 15,000 bales, of which 1,000 were for speculation and export, and included 13,500 American. Receipts none. Futures opened steady and closed very steady.

Dry Goods.

New York, May 13.—Trading in cotton goods continued more active in the primary market during the day. Spots and contracts are being taken in brown cottons and mills are getting the advancing prices. Cotton yarns are steadier. Silk piece goods are fairly steady and a better trade is reported on some lines of fall goods. Knit goods and hosiery are selling for quick shipment.

W. V. MARTIN,

Carpenter, Baggot & Co.

New York, May 13.—Cotton: Another day of strenuosity for those short of old crop deliveries. July took the lead at the start, and as the session progressed increased its premium over the fall and winter months. The weather map, outside of rains reported in Arkansas, was considered good. Later in the day, however, private advices from Texas and Louisiana reported too much rain, and this started covering in the new crop months. Those long of July against their forward sales of actual cotton are standing pat until the producer sees fit to sell the remnant of his crop on a basis that hedges can be undone. In the meantime the shorts seem panic-stricken, with no one to sell them the cotton. Through hysteria the market is at least 100 points too low, and from the same cause it may be put proportionately too high.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, May 13.—Transactions in July still dominate the situation, and while the short interest created a demand on the advance, this demand was met at improving prices. Smaller interests are liquidating gradually, but surely, and the result finally will lie between the holders of the spot cotton here and the holders of the contracts. It promises activity for some time.

Today the later deliveries showed more strength, with a fairly good general weather map; severe rains were reported in Oklahoma, and the trade has turned to the bull side.

Liverpool reports a better feeling in Manchester, improbability of short time and considerable business doing.

STOCKS SHOWED MUCH ANIMATION

Professionals Timid About Selling Short.

Believed That Large Financial Powers Are Behind the Operations of Market, Harriman Pacifics, Particularly.

New York, May 13.—While the strength in today's stock market was irregularly manifested there was no mistaking its decided character and the speculation showed animation and considerable variety. The principal operations were attributed still to the larger financial powers and the professional element was timid about venturing to sell the market short in face of this belief in support by such formidable forces. The purpose to foster the demand for new capital issues was believed to prompt the measures to control the market, and as the Harriman Pacifics are credited with largest interest at present in this purpose, owing to the imminence of new issues, the sustaining operations in the stock market were commonly believed to emanate from sources in alliance with those companies. The meeting of the directors of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific resulted in the declaration of the regular dividends on both stocks and that action helped the stocks, but they were more affected by rumors regarding the coming financing on which no announcement was made. The volatile rise in the Southern Pacific preferred indicated the credence that was given to a report that it was in contemplation to waive the company's privilege to redeem the seven per cent preferrd stock at 115. The existence of this privilege has had the effect of holding the price of the stock close to that level. The motive for this supposed intention is said to be the desire to market the balance of the authorized preferred stock in the treasury of the company.

The rumor of an intended extra distribution of Northern Pacific stock was revived. Both the Hill stocks and St. Paul were benefited by the large sales of new stock effected before the financial depression set in. Suppositions as to the benefit to the companies of these funds in hand available for expenditure during the period of depression and low prices of materials play an important part in the strength of the stocks. Stocks of companies which have just effected financial plans responded to this news, especially some of the railroads of doubtful credit supposed to be confronted with difficulties in this regard. The fact that note instead of bond issues were resorted to in these instances suggested a graduation in the prospects of coming securities issues in proportion to the security offered for the financial strength of the companies. The prevailing temper of the speculation was clear from the activity with which hints of favorable news were seized upon to rush up prices, while events seeming to bear unfavorably on the outlook for values were ignored. The engagements of gold for export, while large, were entirely expected on account of the abundance of money here, the decline in the foreign trade balance in our favor and some remarketings here of foreign holdings of American securities.

The foreign allotments of the Pennsylvania bonds are reported as being resold in this market, in spite of their denomination in pounds sterling instead of dollars. Discounts receded today in London and Berlin and a possible reduction in the Bank of England official rate tomorrow to 2½ per cent was under discussion.

Bonds were steady. Total sales par value $4,476,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

PEACH GROWERS A BUSY CROWD

Georgia Fruit Men Had All-Day Session.

EVERY PHASE TALKED OF

Canning, Distribution Methods, Commissions and Other Interesting Features Discussed by Experts—Committees Are Named.

The Georgia Peach Growers' Association, with H. A. Matthews, of Fort Valley, president, officiating, held an all-day session in the Kimball house ballroom yesterday with something like one hundred and twenty-five to one hundred and fifty growers, railroad men, commission house representatives, middle men, canning men and others interested in the Georgia peach being in attendance.

The morning hours, from 10 o'clock up to 12:30 o'clock, were given up to a discussion of canning the peach. W. F. Summerour, of Dalton, A. M. Kitchen, of Habersham, and J. C. Wade, of Cornelia, taking a leading part in the discussion. Then something like a quarry box as to how a cannery might be established, the cost of conducting one and how one might be sustained in a community or section followed. This brought on the question of a distribution of the crop of the state—how it could be disposed of to the best advantage of the orchardman. Then came a discussion as to the price that should obtain during the coming selling season. Some were inclined to sell the orchard output to an f. o. b. car. Others advocated a shipment to a foreign market. Still others inclined to some one of the large concerns who accept consignments, dispose of them and make returns to the shipper. Market figures were suggested, but the gathering declined to place itself on record as to what price would suit, because there were pronounced differences between the maximum and minimum figures suggested.

Distribution Methods.

As to the distribution methods, the quickest, easiest, safest and most remunerative way by which a market could be reached, there were a number companies engaged in making a delivery from the orchard, or the shipping point, represented on the floor, and each was given an opportunity to present its views.

Arthur R. Rule, representing Crutchfield & Woolfolk, wholesale fruit and produce commission merchants of Pittsburg, was given the first fifteen minutes allotted to each of the three kindred businesses. Mr. Rule, a young man of good appearance, was clever in his presentation of the manner in which his folks worked, and stood the rapid-fire questioning in good style.

President Matthews announced a committee to nominate officers for the coming year, and with the announcement of that committee an adjournment for an hour was taken.

The afternoon session opened with the report of the committee on nominations. That committee nominated: For president, H. A. Matthews, of Fort Valley; for vice president, W. F. Summerour, of Dalton; for secretary-treasurer, J. A. Ewing, of Rome.

The nominations were accepted and the candidates presented were elected by a standing vote, which was unanimous.

Resuming the distribution feature of the peaches, John D. Cunningham, an old Georgian, himself a successful peach grower, now representing the American Fruit Union of Cincinnati, was recognized. Of that association Mr. Cunningham is president. Few men in the country, from the Georgia orchard to the California orchard, is better acquainted with the life of the peach, with the elements necessary to give it a quick market at the right time and at the right place. In his usual pleasant manner he presented what he said were the advantages of his company in handling the orchard output of the Empire State of the South.

A representative of the S. W. Cole Fruit and Produce Marketing Company, of Washington, D. C., interested the gathering in the recital of the methods employed by his national capital house in disposing of consignments of the Georgia peach.

Committee Named.

A committee on transportation was named and was directed to confer with the roads to be used. The committee is composed of G. B. Jewett, W. H. Harris, M. Felton Hatcher, A. M. Kitchen and Frank Stafford.

A committee on commission houses was authorized, the object of the committee being to present to the convention the names of commission houses in the various cities to which Georgia peaches are shipped that have proven reliable. The committee's report covered almost every city in the east, a number in the south and many in the west. In each city there were a number of firms, and with one or two exceptions the report of the committee proved satisfactory.

A number of committees were named for various works, and were given power to act, that action to be made known to the members of the committee through the secretary.

Many of the discussions were of interest to the members of the association, but they had to do with matters with which the peach grower only has to do.

LIBERAL SELLING SENT WHEAT OFF

July Delivery Closed at Net Loss of Three-Quarters.

There Was a Show of Firmness at Opening of Market, Owing to Bulge in May Corn, but Market Weakened Later in Day.

Chicago, May 13.—Liberal realizing sales, based on favorable weather conditions for the growing crop of wheat in America, caused weakness today in the local wheat market, the July delivery closing at a net loss of 3-4c. Corn was up 1-2@5-8c. Oats were unchanged and provisions 2 1-2 to 2 1-2@5c lower.

The wheat market made a brief show of firmness at the start, owing to the sharp bulge in the price of May corn, but heavy sales by prominent longs soon caused a decline in all deliveries. The selling was largely due to the excellent weather now prevailing over the entire winter and spring wheat territories in this country and Canada, and to talk of a shutting down of a large number of flour mills in the northwest, due to an accumulation of stocks of flour. A number of prominent cash interests were free sellers of wheat during the last hour of the session, but the market closed easy. July opened unchanged to 1-8@1-4c higher at 90 1-2 to 90 5-8@3-4c, sold at 90 3-4c and then declined to 89 1-4@3-8c. The close was at 89 3-4c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 76,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 339,000 bushels compared with 586,000 bushels the corresponding day a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 210 cars against 192 cars last week and 372 cars a year ago.

Additional rain over the entire corn belt caused strength in the corn market. The May delivery displayed the greatest strength, and at one time was up 2 cents compared with yesterday's close. Shorts and shippers were easier bidders but offerings were light. The close was strong.

July opened a shade to 1-4@3-8c higher, at 64 1-8c to 64 3-8c, advanced to 64 3-4c and closed at 64 5-8c. May sold between 72 1-2c and 73 1-2c and closed at 73 1-4c. Local receipts were 123 cars with none of contract grade.

Trade in oats was quiet and the market was steady. Favorable weather for the growing crop offset the bullish effect of the bulge in corn. July opened 1-8c higher at 47 1-8c, sold between 46 7-8c, and 47 1-4c, and closed at 47c. Local receipts were 311 cars.

Provisions were easy, owing to selling by local packers, which was based mainly on the exceedingly liberal receipts of live hogs at all western packing centers. At the close July pork was 2 1-2c lower, at $13.47 1-2@13.50. Lard was down 2 1-2@5c, at $8.42 1-2. Ribs were 2 1-2c lower, at $7.27 1-2c.

Wool Auction Sales.

London, May 13.—The offerings at the wool auction sales today amounted to 9,128 bales. Competition was sprited and cross breds were in active demand at 2 1-2 to 5 per cent advance over yesterday's prices. Americans bought a moderate supply of cross-breds. Only small quantities of merinos were offered and they sold readily at hardening prices. The following are the sales:
